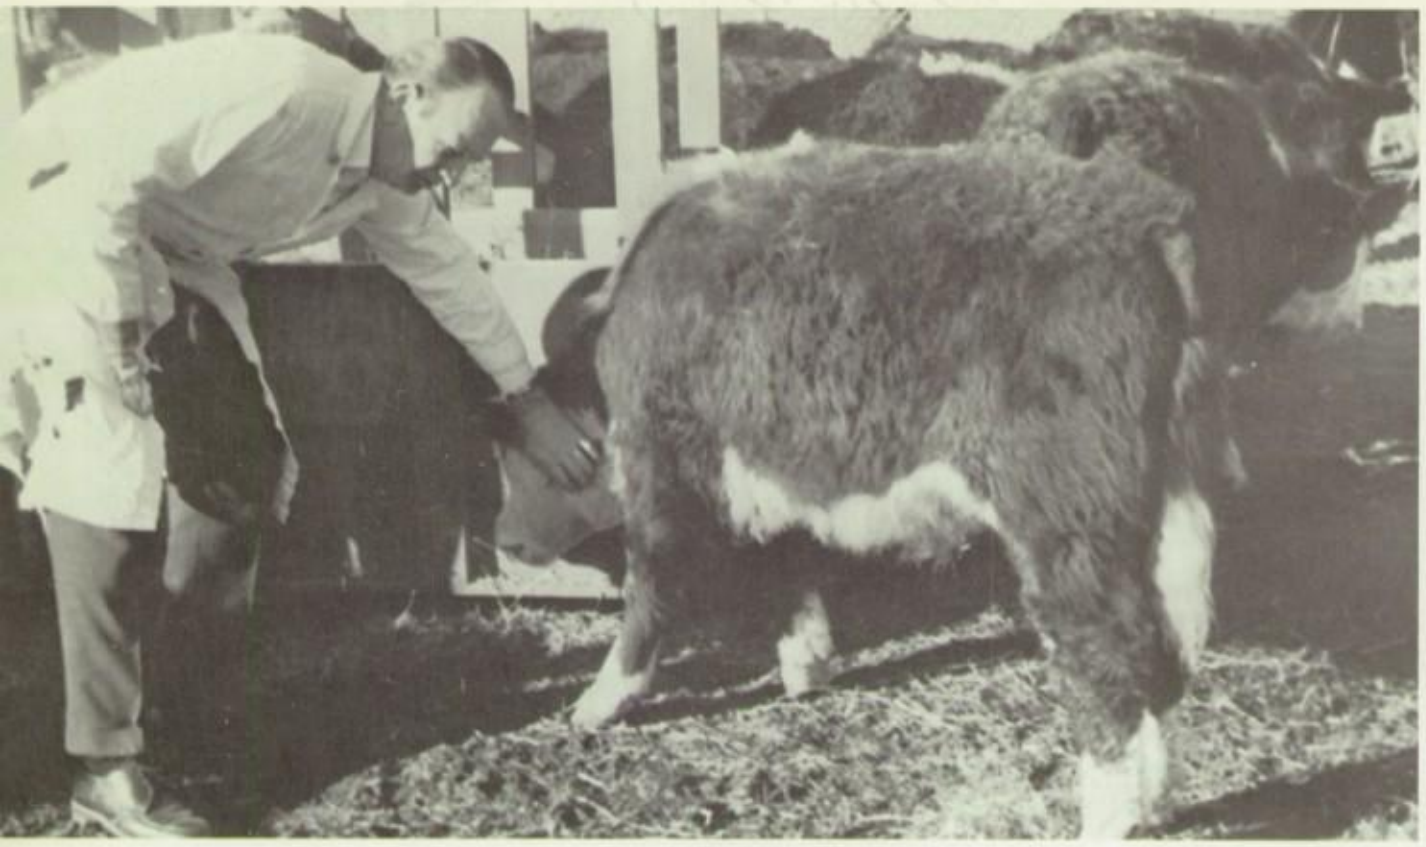
Consultation between Counselor Hoel and Vice-Principal Marshall, two members of the administration, helped the communication and understanding between departments.

The challenge of inspiring his students both in the classroom and on the athletic field helped keep Mr. Petterson (better known as "Pitty Pat") quite busy.

Helping students individually to understand their homework made Mr. Lopez a popular teacher among his pupils.

The Faculty Members Were Constantly Busy . . .



Assisting our future farmers with cattle raising was one of Mr. Moon's various jobs.

Mr. Fotia, Mr. Nielsen, and Mr. Brady held a summit conference for the art department.

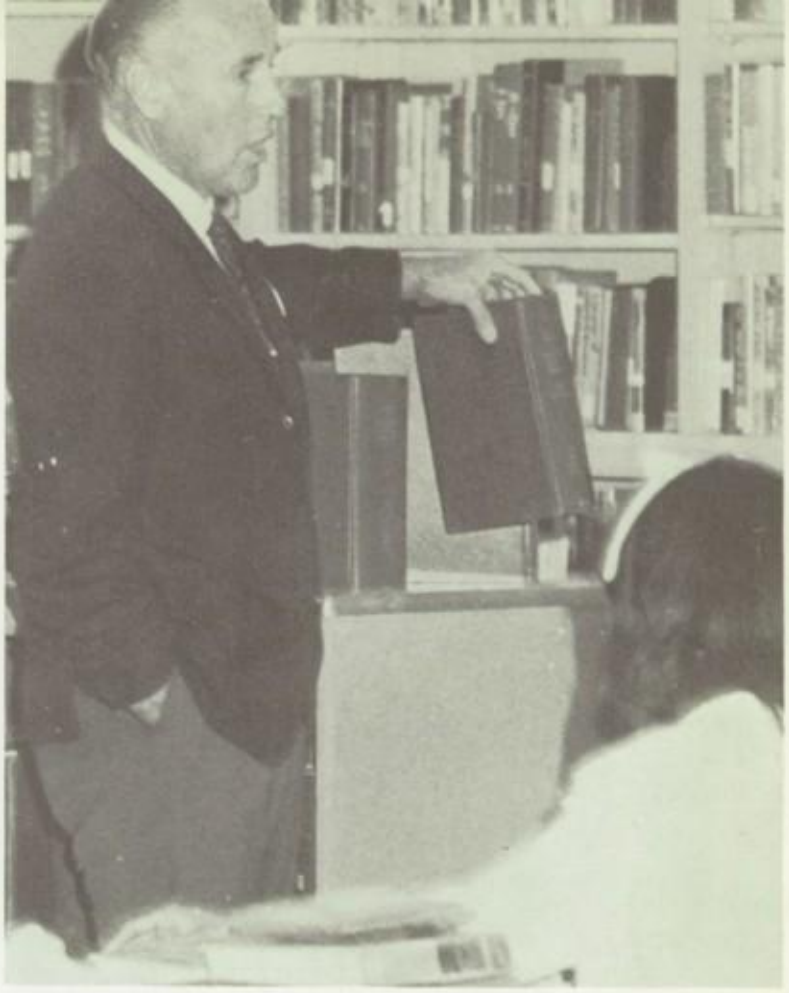
Mr. Will directed many fine choral groups at Pacific High.

But Always Found Time to Assist Students

Right: Strongly disagreeing with the referees at one of our many exciting and victorious football games was Mr. Wheeler. Below: Enjoying the faculty workroom, which was better known as the faculty fun room, during their well-earned break were Miss Broadhurst, Mrs. Mitchel, and Mr. Pickett, three members of the faculty.

All Of Pacific's Faculty Participated In

Attempting to get the basketball and score two points were "King Kong" (Mr. King) and "Hotter 'n Hale" (Mr. Hale) during the exciting donkey basketball game. They were two of the faculty members who participated in the event.



Explaining how to use the library for research papers and reading assignments was Mr. Jones. He has helped our library in meeting demands of the curriculum offered at Pacific.

Performing "Little Red Riding Hood" during the Pacific Potpourri were Mr. Smilac as the mother of Little Red Riding Hood and Mr. Fotia starring as Little Red Riding Hood herself.

Talking about their summers at the annual faculty breakfast before school started were Mr. Liles, a teacher and coach, and Mrs. Leonard, a secretary.

Many Activities Beyond The Call Of Duty

PRINCIPAL

Above: In his office, paper work kept Mr. Brickley busy.
Right: He often watched football games from the press box.

ADMINISTRATION

"A program tailored to individual needs, the excitement induced by interest in one's studies, excellence in achievement, involvement in school activities—these are the characteristics of life at Pacific High School. We are—and have been for fifteen years—a school of tremendous pride. Our scholastic honors, our citizenship ratings, our athletic teams, and the work of our various clubs are legend in this school and the community.

To our departing seniors, may I say, 'Thank you for a job well done. May the classes that follow do as well.' To the student body, may I say, 'Cherish this beautiful annual as visible evidence of Pacific's way of life. This past year, as a part of your life at Pacific, is commemorated in this yearbook.'"

James L Brickley

Early in the year Mr. Brickley started planning for graduation.

ACCREDITATION

Every five years the Western Association of Schools and Colleges does a thorough investigation of all the factors which contribute to the educational process of Pacific High School. All through the first half of the school year the department heads prepared reports that went into one comprehensive report about the whole school. At the end of the first semester this book was printed up to be presented to the WASC when they came on campus in May. Mr. Mayo, as president of the faculty and chairman of this project, Miss McCoy, Miss Pieper, Miss Broadhurst, and Miss Hempstead spent many long and hard hours on the proofreading of the report. In May a group of about six people from WASC visited our campus to make the final decision.

Above: Mr. Mayo organized the different sections of the accreditation report into one book. Mrs. Yuren typed the entire report and Mr. Les Nielsen was the art consultant.

Right: A drawing by Becky Wagoner was used for the cover of the report. She also did drawings of other familiar scenes around the campus for division pages of the sections.

MR. FOSTER

A Major Step Toward Better Understanding

Hoping for a better feeling on our campus, a new counselor, especially for the minorities, was added to Pacific High's faculty. This new addition was Mr. Troy Foster, a young man, full of new ideas. One could most often find him walking around the campus talking to students, finding out what their problems were and then trying to help the minorities work a workable solution.

Mr. Troy Foster was a new addition to the Pacific faculty this year.

P. T. A. LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Each year the Pacific High P.T.A. gives P.T.A. Life Memberships to deserving persons in the community. This year one of the awards went to Mrs. Margaret Jeffords, a counselor at Pacific. The night of the Pacific Potpourri Mr. Brickley made the announcement, a dinner was given later in honor of P.T.A. Life Memberships from all of San Bernardino.

As an added attraction on the night of Potpourri, Mr. Brickley presented the annual Pacific P.T.A. Life Memberships to Mrs. Jeffords and Mrs. George Nelson the present P.T.A. president of Pacific High.

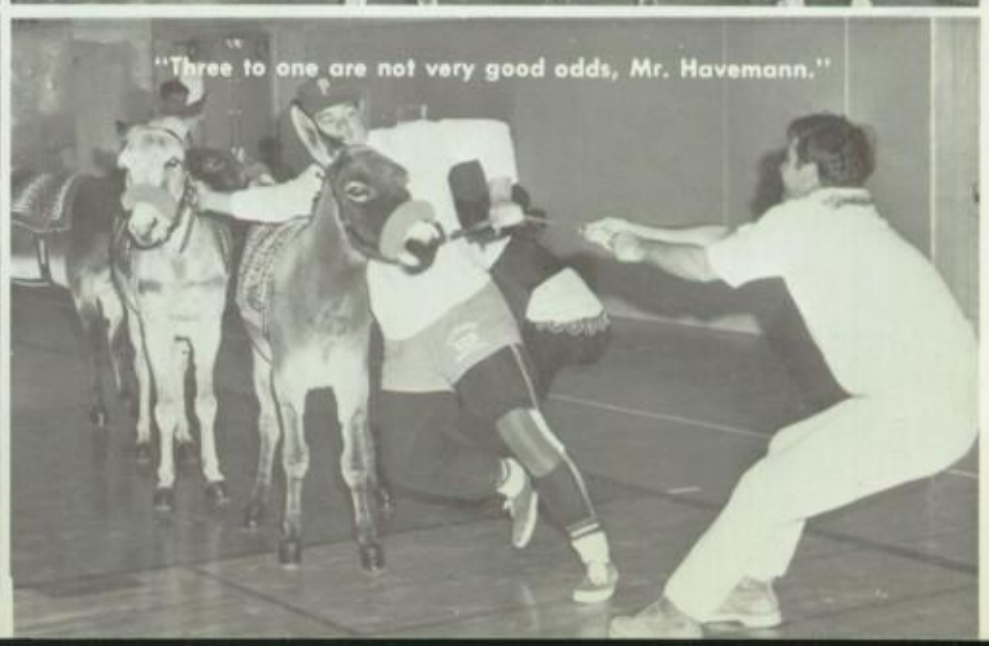
Sly Fox struggled to move his donkey while King Kong and Hotter 'N Hale kept their eyes on the action in other parts of the basketball court.

DAUNTLESS YET DEFEATED . . . 30-28

Courageous and skillful, the teachers who participated in this year's annual Donkey Basketball game were King Kong, Pitty Pat Pettersen, (high scorer for the evning), Hotter 'N Hale, Near 'N Farr, Sly Fox, Suave Man Havemann, and Jumping Jo Hossafats, only female on the team. The Faculty was rough, but the students proved victorious.

"Mr. Farr, your pants are slipping."

"Ther[illegible]itty Pat again."



"Three to one are not very good odds, Mr. Havemann."

Teachers on the Faculty Advisory Committee this year were (seated): Mr. Mayo (chairman), Mr. Rehaume, Miss Hempstead, and Mrs. Dominguez. Standing: Mr. Will, Mr. Smilac, Mr. Jones, Mr. Narramore, and Mr. Winsor. Not pictured are Mr. Louis Lopez and Mrs. Rith R. Lewis.

New To Pacific This Year . . .

FACULTY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The purpose of the new Faculty Advisory Committee was to improve communication and therefore understanding between faculty, students, and administration. The president of the faculty, Mr. Mayo this year, was the chairman of this committee which consisted of representatives from ten departments. This year they were Mr. Narramore from Agriculture, Vocational and Industrial Arts; Mr. Will from Applied Arts; Miss Hempstead from English; Mr. Rehaume from Business Education; Mr. Smilac from Math-Science; Mrs. Dominguez from Physical Education; Mr. Winsor from Foreign Language; Mrs. Lewis from Counselors; Mr. Lopez from Social Studies; and Mr. Jones from Special Services. This new group of faculty members was formed so that there could be some one to speak with authority for the Pacific High School faculty to the administration.

FACULTY FEED

Right: Susan Holland narrated the skit which the Sobobans performed that night.

As part of the evening's entertainment, Andrea Ramsey did a Mexican folk dance.

Enjoyable and entertaining as always, the Soboban's Faculty Feed was held at the Arrowhead Springs Hotel. As in previous years the Sobobans and other students provided the entertainment. Each Soboban invited a teacher to the dinner as their guest. Miss Zanders was the guest of honor this year.

Left: Seated around the table were Miss Stathis and Leslie Waddell, Mr. Nielsen and Andrea Ramsey, Mr. Thames and Charlyn Thames, and Miss Pieper and Debbie Brickley. Right: Miss Zanders, the guest of honor for the evening, talked with Hallie Hyer, her Soboban hostess, and others.

Happy because Pacific was leading, Mr. Glenn E. Taylor, his wife, and his daughter watched the Pacific and Berdoo basketball game.

At football games Mr. Wood and Mr. Thomas usually ran the clock.

Lower left: That voice which kept us informed as to what was going on at football games was usually Mr. Chambers or Mr. Wheeler. Lower right: Mr. Nedved often stamped our hands at the basketball games.

Upper: Some of Pacific's faculty came to just watch the game. Lower: Mr. Nielsen and Mr. Duden officiated for cross-country.

L: Administration secretaries and teachers were part of the Little Red Riding Hood Skit. R: No one ever found out what that strange odor was.

PACIFIC POTPOURRI

Havemann as "Mademoiselle Mystery" sang "I Love Paris."

Intoning "Can't Stop Lovin' My Man" was Miss Hempstead.

Talented and amusing faculty and students presented the first annual Pacific Potpourri. A song written especially for the occasion started the show. Some of the staff who joined the younger generation were Miss McCoy, Mrs. Ozyp, Mr. Cridelich, Mr. Smilac, Mr. Hale, Mrs. Sibley, and Mr. Chambers, who also was M.C. for the evening. Miss Hempstead sang "Can't Stop Lovin' My Man." The next teacher on the program was Mademoiselle Mystery (alias Mr. Havemann). Mr. Will joined two musically talented pupils in a trio. Little Red Riding Hood, a comedy skit, was then performed by several members of the faculty. "Jimmy" Brickley, "Georgie" Stancer, and "Supposed-to-be-Joe" Chambers sang a song about their duties on campus. Bone and Fotia did an outstanding rendition of "You Belong to Me." The entire student cast, with the dance band, presented the spectacular finale.

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEES:

Cafeteria Workers, Security Guards, Custodians

The women who worked in our school cafeteria were (from l. to r.) 1: Mildred de la Vega, Reo Jackson, and Orinna Spurrier. 2: Mary Caddell, Mary Gilbert, and Pat Fletcher.

At right the familiar Pacific High School security guards, William P. Hollock and Shirley A. Mardis, wrote down the names of two culprits caught in the head during class time.

Row 1: E. D. Ayres, C. Miller, V. Diaz and N. Brown. Row 2: B. Wall, T. Caldevilla, D. Alverez, and W. Casteel. Row 3: W. Zalewdki, R. Sodergren, E. Morris, and R. Eckland. These people, along with the night staff which is not pictured, are the custodians who keep Pacific beautiful.

Promoting fairness was the job of the referee in the close game, Harder Than Nails Bales demonstrated good technique controlling the ball.

STUDENTS TROUNCE FACULTY 30-28

King Kong did a head dive as Ron Jarvis and Wino Waelder awaited the ball.

Jungle Gemme scored a great shot to help the students win with 30-28.

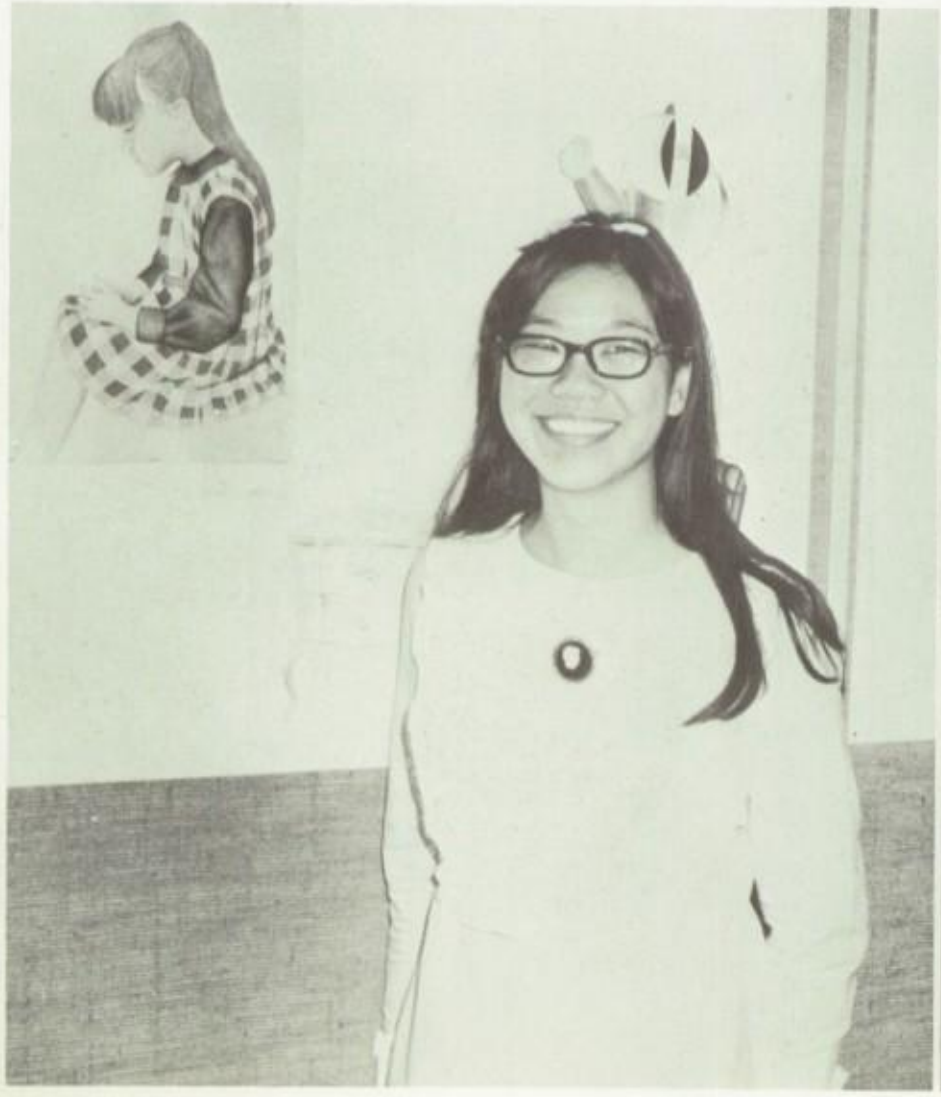
OUTSTANDING SENIORS

in the fields of Agriculture and Art

Although the last year in high school was quite occupied, some seniors managed to include an elective in their busy schedules. John Seeds was very learned in the field of agriculture, while Hazel Kwock and other students of Pacific High were most outstanding in art. Hazel designed our city flag.

Operating a tractor proved to be quite educational for John Seeds.

Flashing a smile was Hazel Kwock designer of the San Bernardino city flag.



Elaborating on a drawing by Larry Chatman were advanced art students.

Reminiscing in the quad over their previous summer activities were seniors Mike Evans, Andrea Ramsey, and Steve Labensart. Those chosen were all active in various extracurricular activities in addition to their regular school schedules. All felt honored to have been chosen.

GIRLS AND BOYS STATE AT DAVIS

Offering a program to train youth in the different phases of our California government, the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary sponsored Girls State and Boys State. Through this program representatives from almost every high school in the state spent eight days experiencing the procedures of our government by seeking election to city, county, and state offices and performing their duties. Other time was spent listening to guest speakers, attending meetings and forums, and participating in recreation and enjoying the delightful meals. This proved to be a rewarding experience.

Mike Evans was known to excel in football in addition to a full schedule of classes.

Steve Labensart was found industriously practicing piano during his lunch period.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

in Home Economics, Spanish, and German

Preparing girls to be homemakers was the purpose of home economics classes. Outstanding homemakers were Sharon Thixton, Cathy Sutton, and Linda McGowan. Mike Coronado, Carla Christensen, Andrea Ramsey, Gordon Van Dalen, and Larry Hebron excelled in Spanish and German classes.

Cooking proved to be enjoyable for homemaking students Cathy Sutton, Linda McGowan, and Sharon Thixton.

Conversing in Spanish improved grammar and pronunciation for Mike Coronado, Carla Christensen, and Andrea Ramsey.

In addition to learning to speak the language, Gordon Van Dalen and Larry Hebron studied the German culture.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

in the Business, Math & Science departments

Bank of America award winner Chris Keegan was remarkable in business as was Marsha Hoffman, while Steve Labensart, Chris Skinner, and Hazel Kwock succeeded in advanced trig, and Gordon Van Dalen, Karen Jackson, and Larry Hebron performed lab experiments excellently in chemistry.

Typing and shorthand were some of the skills practiced by Marsha and Chris in business classes.

Performing experiments was one of Larry, Karen, and Gordon's assignments in their chemistry class.

Listening as Chris Skinner explained a problem were Hazel Kwock and Steve Labensart.

Thursday, June 12th	Seniors pick up Diplomas

Providing the proper finish to three years of study at Pacific for the Seniors was the ceremonious last week known as Senior Week. This week was a conglomeration of semester finals, Baccalaureate practice in the bowl, the last class, awards assemblies in which those who achieved high academic excellence were honored, and the class picture. Seniors tried to find time to enjoy themselves at the Senior Swim and Senior Picnic at Perris Hill Park. After graduation ceremonies, exuberant graduates boarded the Greyhound bus for Grad Night held every year at Disneyland. The following day, after picking up diplomas, Seniors felt tired but happy as they looked forward to attending college, home life, or a career in the military service.

PACIFIC HIGH SCHOOL

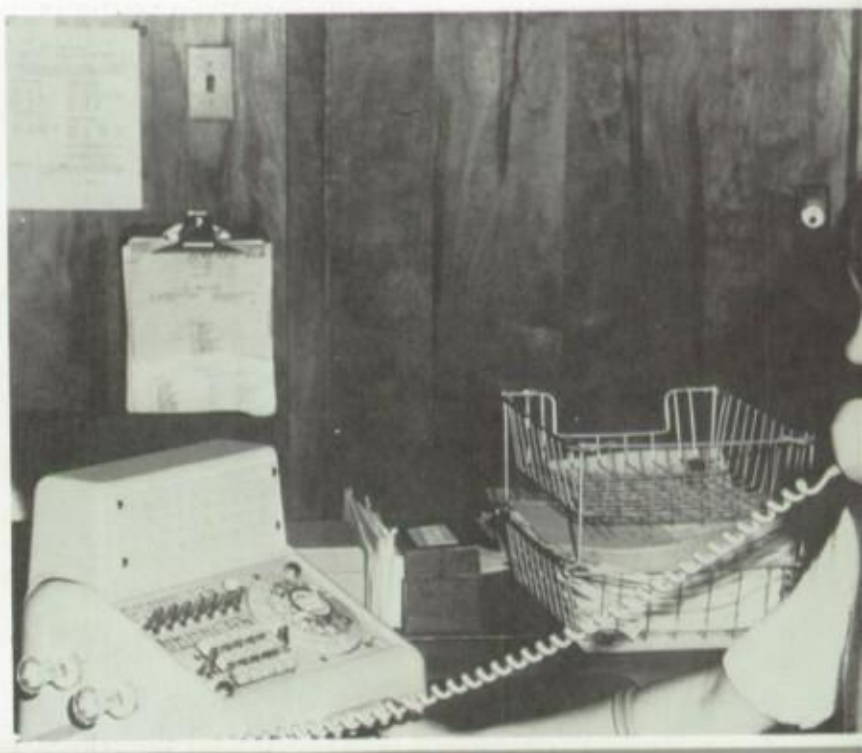
SAN BERNARDINO

ACADEMIC

Expressing their thoughts through creative things as painting, drawing, ceramics, and sculptoring, were the students in the Applied Art courses.

With the help from Mr. Janes, the librarian, the new students learned the procedures and advantages of the library.

Inspections and drills were some of the activities which the members of the cadet corp, under the guidance of Colonel Betts, participated in.



"The Natural Desire Of Good Men Is Knowledge . . .

Welding was one of the many vocational classes which help prepare the students for a future career. The reading lab aided the sophomores in their reading. Studying the earthworm was one of the labs in biology.

. . . Repetition Is The Mother Of Education"

Rehearsing occupied much of the drama students time, such as practicing for Mark Twain's play, Tom Sawyer.

Several students met with the Bank of America Board and representatives to discuss the possibility of college scholarships and future schooling plans.

Using Pacific's Library to aid her in her assignments was Bernev Ekicioslu, the American Field Services' Foreign Exchange student from Ankara, Turkey.

Academics Was Incentive For Accomplishment . . .

Entertaining the students that attended assemblies and forums was accomplished by the singing of the Vocal Ensemble. The selling of the ASB cards helped finance the student body, which enabled them to put on paid assemblies and forums.

Painting was one of the topics discused in the Pacific High Forums. The purpose of the forums was to acquaint students with interesting topics.

. . . Advancing Towards The Ultimate In Creativity.

CARLA CHRISTENSEN

VALEDICTORIAN

Excelling in many fields, Carla was an active member of Sobobans, Lehis, and Varsity Pom Pons. She was also outstanding in the Creative Arts.

MARY MINICK

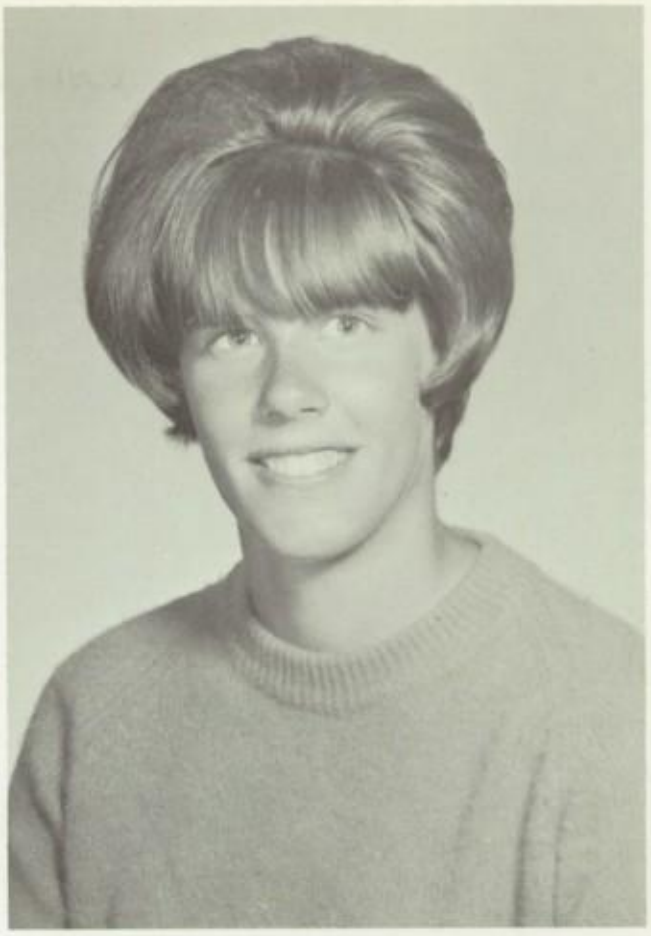
VALEDICTORIAN

Accompaning the .PHS Dance Band on the piano was one of Mary's many activities. She was also in Vocal Ensemble, Zontas, and C.S.F. activities.

LINDA SNYDER

VALEDICTORIAN

Participating in Zonta Z's, NHS, and being president of CSF were a few of Linda's activities. She was also editor of Hi Tide.



KAREN JACKSON

SALUTATORIAN

Playing tennis and other sports in GAA occupied Karen's life, but she found time for CSF, NHS, and secretary of Zonta Z's.

Choosing the outstanding students in twelve different areas, the Bank of America awarded certifications of achievement tc the following students: Row 1 from left to right, Hazel Kwock for art, Andrea Ramsey for foreign language, Sue Bollinger for music, and Viola Krikes for drama. Row 2, Mike Coranado for social studies, Gordon Van Dalen for science, and Steve Labensart for English. Not pictured were Brian Pierce for mathematics, Linda McGovern for home economics, John Seeds for agriculture, Susan Reynolds for business, and Leo Burrell for trades and industrial arts.

areas: liberal arts, fine arts, math and science, and vocational arts. The Seymour Award consists of a $500 scholarship. The requirements are three faculty recommendations and an autobiography. Two scholarships proffered to seniors were the National Merit, based upon a students NMQST score, and the California State Scholarship, based on SAT scores. The purpose of both scholarships was to financially help deserving students through college. The Elks Award also helped the seniors.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The well organized and hard working group of students that helped plan Pacific's rip-roaring assemblies, the hair-raising rallies, and set up the plans for the football homecoming, was the student council. Their fearless leader, Mike McDermont, was responsible for the group's success. Each member of council had a specific job to do. Mr. Joseph Marshall was always on hand at the weekly meetings to assist the group.

FORUMS

Increasing the knowledge and better understandment in various fields, forums were presented to the student body for enjoyment and educational purposes. The programs ranged from music, art, history and chemistry.

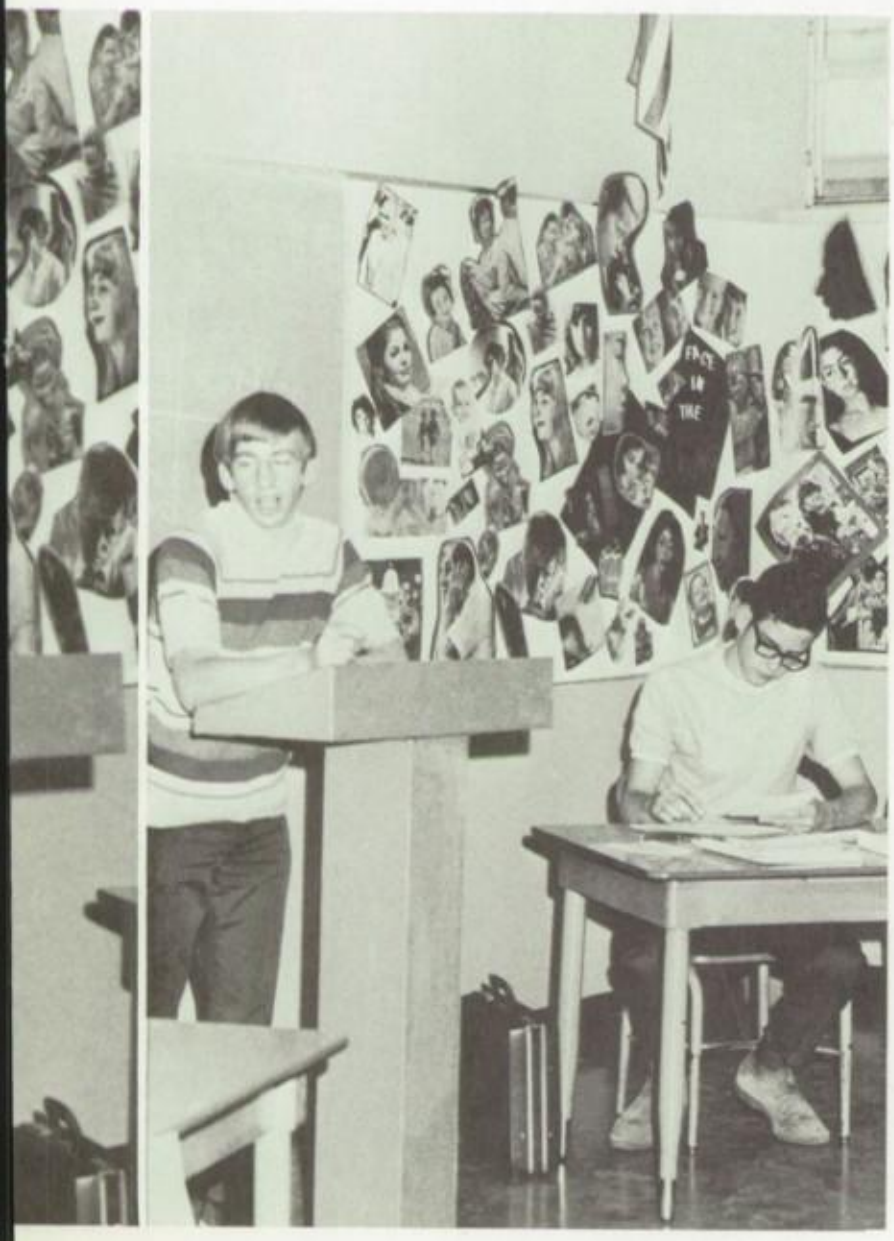
HIGH SCHOOL BOWL

Under the guidance of Mr. Havemann, the High School Bowl team had another successful year. With sharp answers and quick thinking, the members of the team proved to be keen competition for the surrounding high school districts. Brian Pierce, the president, helped the group with their research.

Picking questions at random, Mr. Havemann tested the members of the high school bowl team for a meet. The group was led by Brian Pierce.



DEBATE TEAM

First In 3 Sweepstakes

Representing the top speakers from Pacific, the debating team had another successful year competing with schools from all of California. During these meets, the team won three sweepstakes, as well as many other awards. During their hardest meet, at La Verne College, Beverly Jerman placed sixth in Original Oratory. Larry Hebron was another speaker who won many contests, including placing first at a Lions Club meeting. His talk was on the "hopes and fears of todays youth". The debate team was often formed of Steve Morris, Jolene Vessup, Greg Harder, Larry Hebron, and Candy Arthur.

Participating in one of the many practice debates, two members of the team gained valuable experience which they later used in meets.

Andrea Ramsey
Editor-in-Chief

Working diligently on completing the Pacificana, the members of the staff spent many long hours during and after school to produce one of the finest yearbooks in the history of the school. Meeting the many deadlines which were set by the editor, Andrea Ramsey, and the publisher was the main goal of the editors. Under the supervision of Mr. Nielsen, the advisor, the staff was given help and guidance on their pages. The annual, which consisted of a summary of the entire school year's activities, was distributed to the student body in June.

HI TIDE

Reporting The News

During this past year, Pacific's students were informed of school events and activities by the Hi Tide staff. Their exuberant reporting and accurate compiling of all the news brought smiles of delight to the students of Pacific. Wit and humor were often found throughout the paper and editorials written by the staff were displayed on the back page. The advisor, Mrs. Alice Chous, supervised the activities, and assisted in preparing a firm editorial policy. Linda Snyder, the Editor-in-Chief, worked with the staff to make it a successful year for the newspaper.

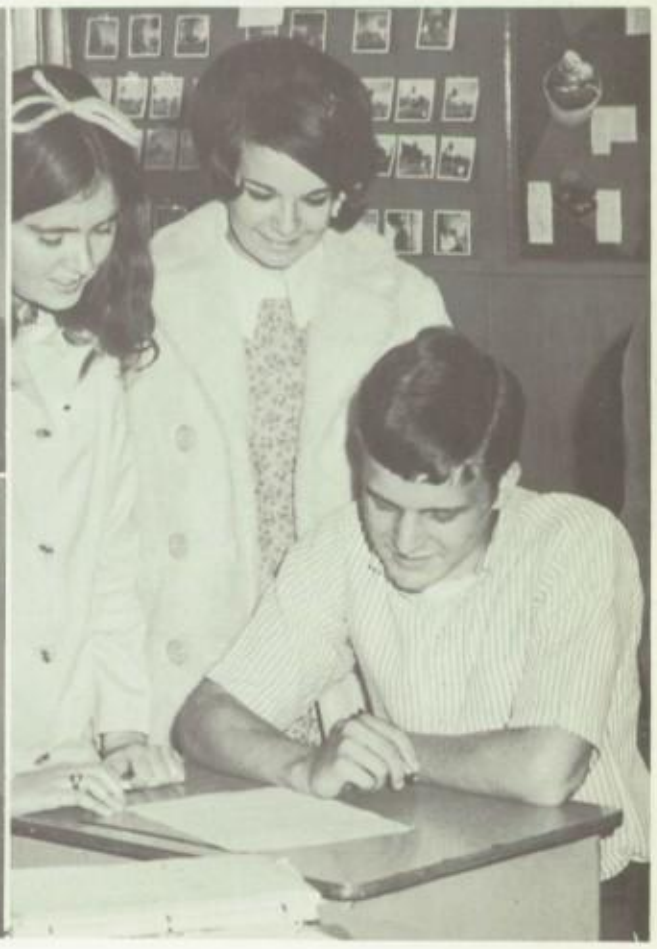
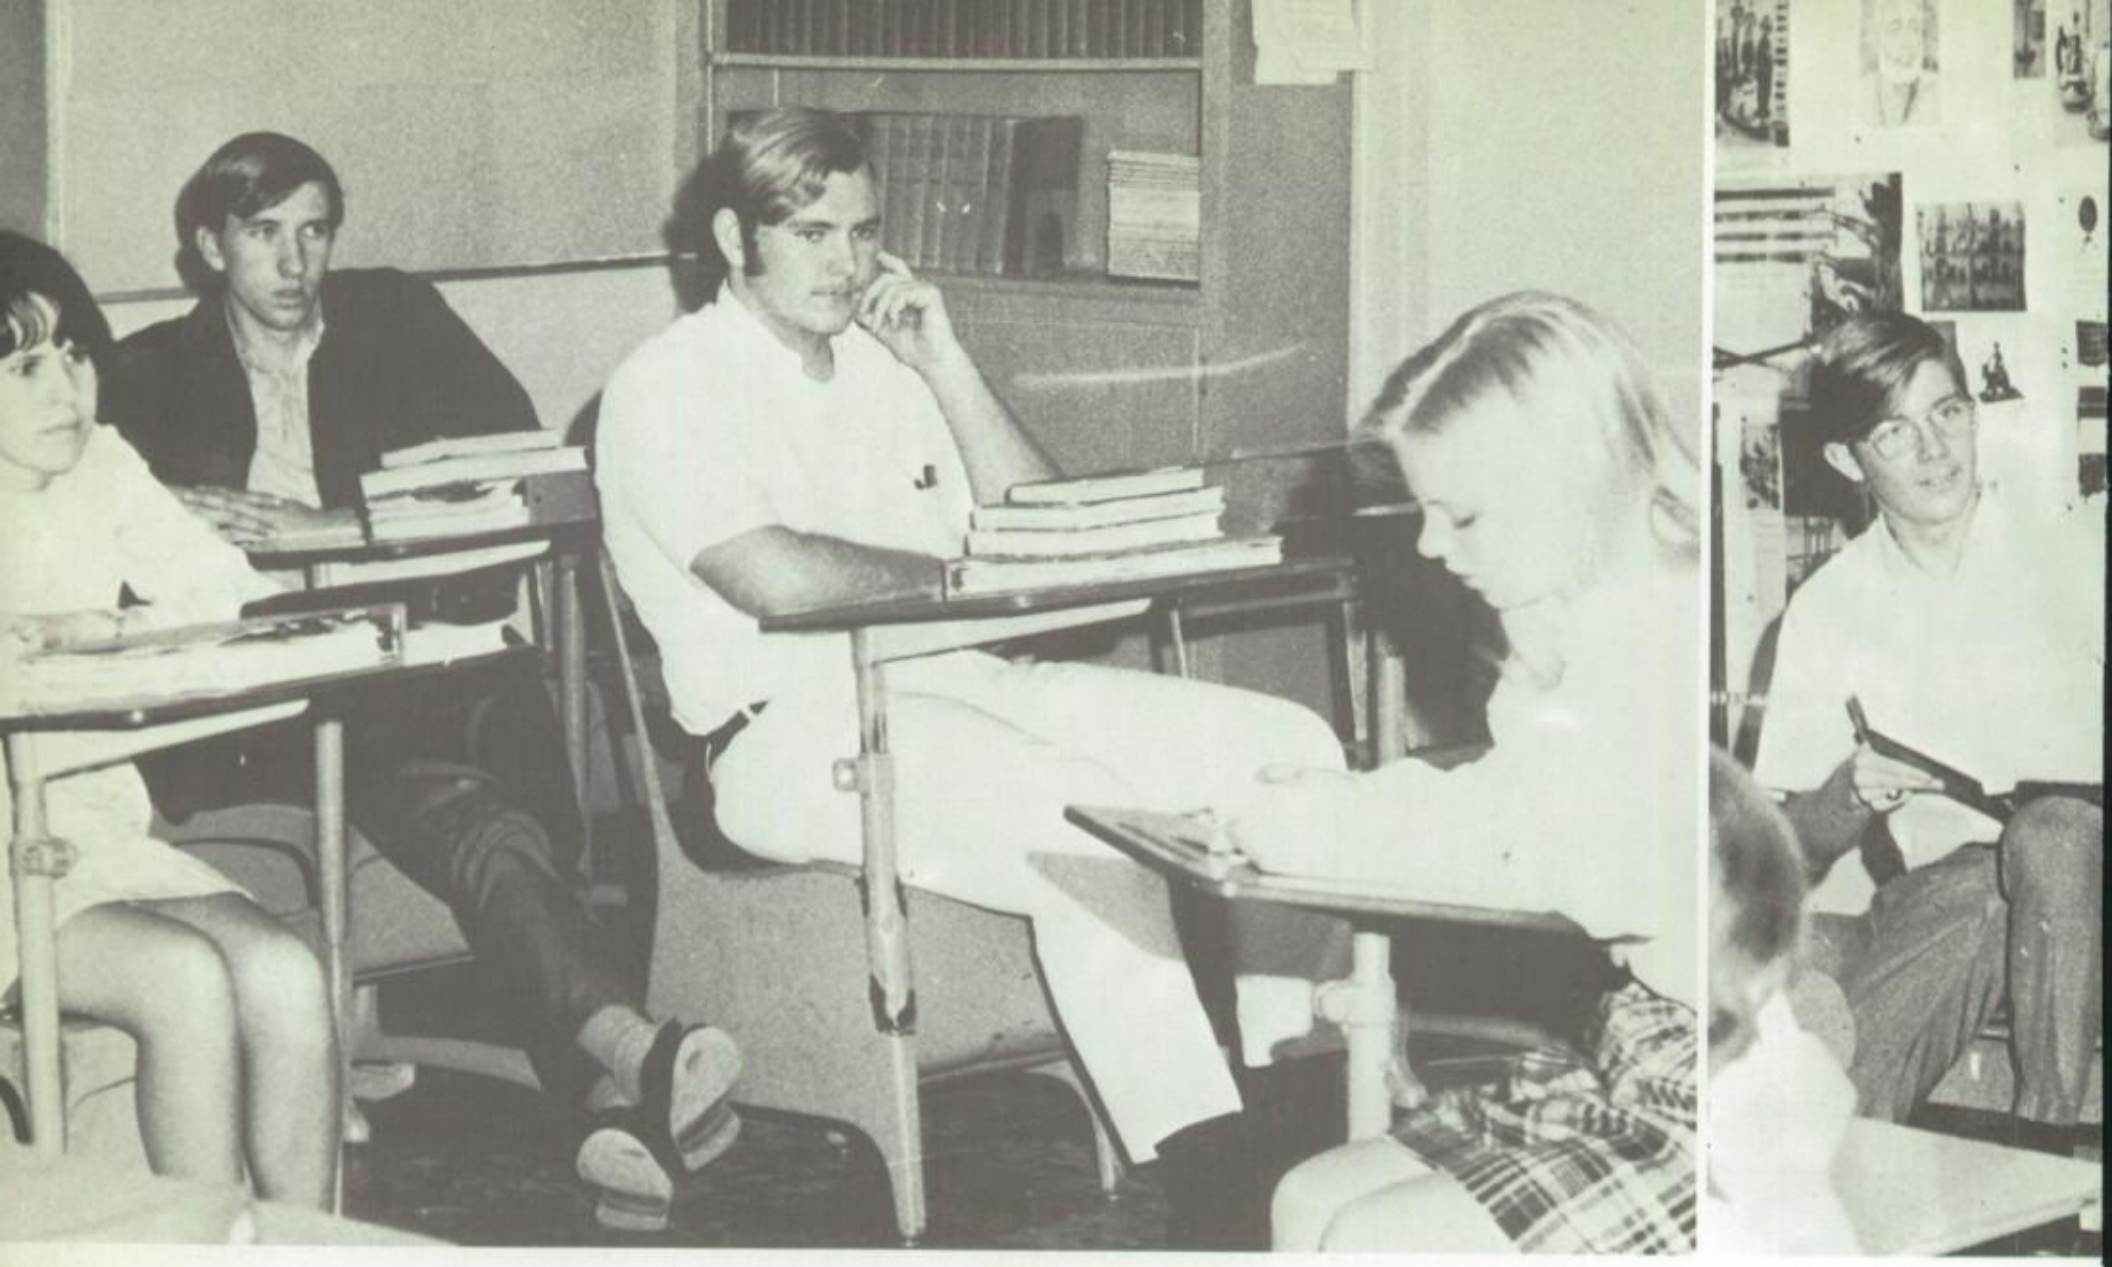
Thinking up new ideas for reporting the campus news was often a big part of the work for the Hi Tide staff.

CLARK MORROW
GRANT RICHARDS

After many hours of working on stories, the final copy was typed up to be sent to the publisher.





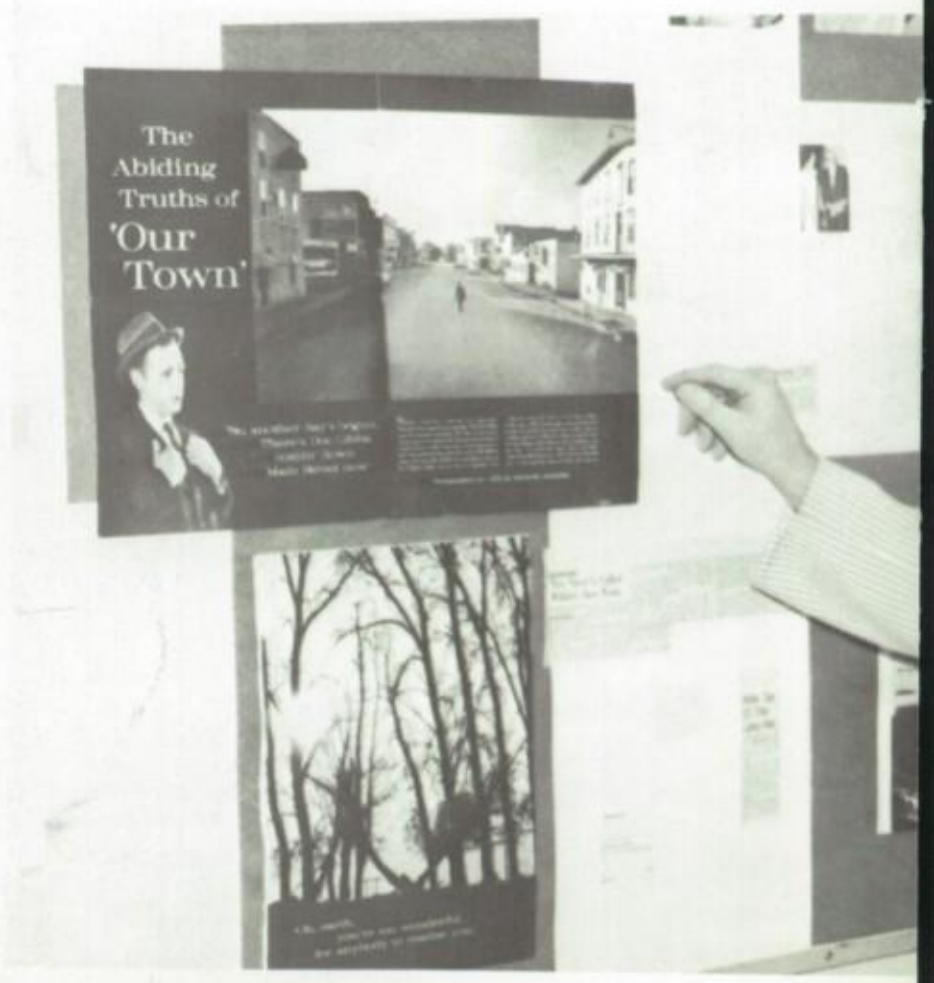
Reading "A Rose for Emily" to the class, Mary gave them a deeper meaning of the plot of the story. The senior English classes spent their time reading and discussing the themes and plots of many stories. Junior English classes also read plays, but theirs were based on the Americas.

ENGLISH

Reading And Writing

Instructing the students how to improve their reading and writing, the English Department assigned many papers to write on novels. During the sophomore year, the students tried to improve their comprehension and speed in reading. They also studied the fundamentals of grammar. The junior classes concentrated on United States literature, reading such great novels as Moby Dick and The Red Badge of Courage. During the year, the seniors worked on many projects that prepared them for college work.

Introducing his students to various kinds of writing, Mr. Taylor discussed one of the plays which was performed by the school.



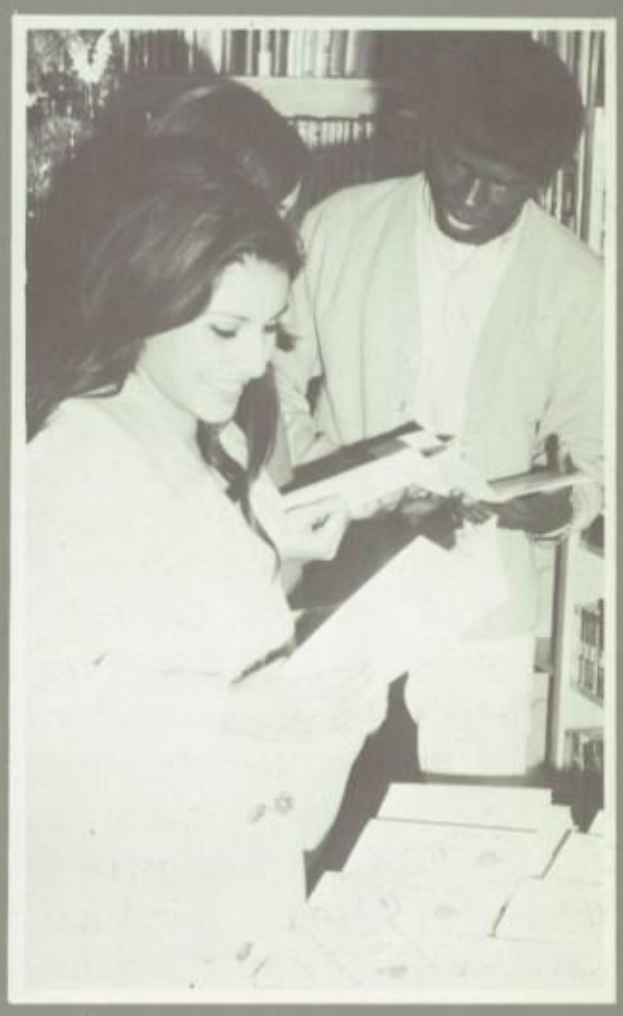
Examining the finished book, Mrs. Lewis, the sponsor, and Julie Moore, the editor, read some of the stories in the Pacific Originals. Many long hours were spent in the completion of the book.

Collection Of Writings And Art

PACIFIC ORIGINALS

Combining the best writings from all three grades, Mrs. Lewis and Julie Moore worked to produce the Pacific Originals. Along with the stories and the poems, art illustrations were used to give a deeper meaning to the original creations.

During the Christmas Tea, the presentation of the Pacific Originals was made to the students and faculty of San Bernardino High School.



Spending many hours keeping the library records complete and up to date, Pat Raymond, one of the many library assistants, found the job never ending. Library assistants were a great help to Mr. Jones, without them, he would have had an enormous job running the library.

LIBRARY

As one of the meeting places on campus, the library was a popular spot before school. It was also an excellent place for studying for tests and the completion of homework. During lunch hours, students often filled the library to capacity for quiet studying. The importance of the library was discovered during the year when teachers assigned term papers. Nearly all the necessary materials for research could be found there.

At the beginning of the school year, the sophomore English teachers brought their classes to the library to familiarize their students to the many aspects of the library. As the year continued, the students found the necessity of it, especially while working on reports.

A. F. S. STUDENT

Bernev Ericioslu

Attending Pacific High School during her senior year as the foreign exchange student from Turkey, Bernev Ericioslu made many new friends and became acquainted with the American way of life. Besides visiting California, she traveled in Oregon, Washington, and Canada. During the year, she went to such places as Lake Arrowhead and Disneyland. With her graduation in June, Bernev ended her stay in California and made the return flight back to her home.

Left: Bernev was often found having a friendly conversation with Mr. Brickeley. By the end of the year, they were good friends. Right: While looking at one of the four posters of Turkey that she donated to the library, Bernev was reminded of her homeland and her friends.

"SO THIS IS MEXICO"

Helping the Spanish students increase their knowledge of the language, Spanish club gave a presentation of the play, "So This is Mexico." It was based on a comical situation in a little village in the middle of Mexico. It was performed at an evening assembly.

Acting members of the Spanish Club put on a performance for all the members of the student body who were taking a Spanish course. This comedy production was titled "So This is Mexico."

LANGUAGE

Grussen, Hola

Bonjour, Valle

The language department offered French, Latin, German, and Spanish, to interested students. Ranging from beginning to excelled courses in these languages, the pupils gained a valuable knowledge which would help them in the future. In the Latin classes, they were taught the history and development of Rome. French students learned how to conjugate verbs in many different tenses. They also studied French literature. The German classes studied the culture and geography of Germany. The students in the Spanish classes played password to increase their knowledge of the language. During the year the classes had several Spanish parties.

Singing songs for the Spanish classes, Ben Martin helped them improve their Spanish.

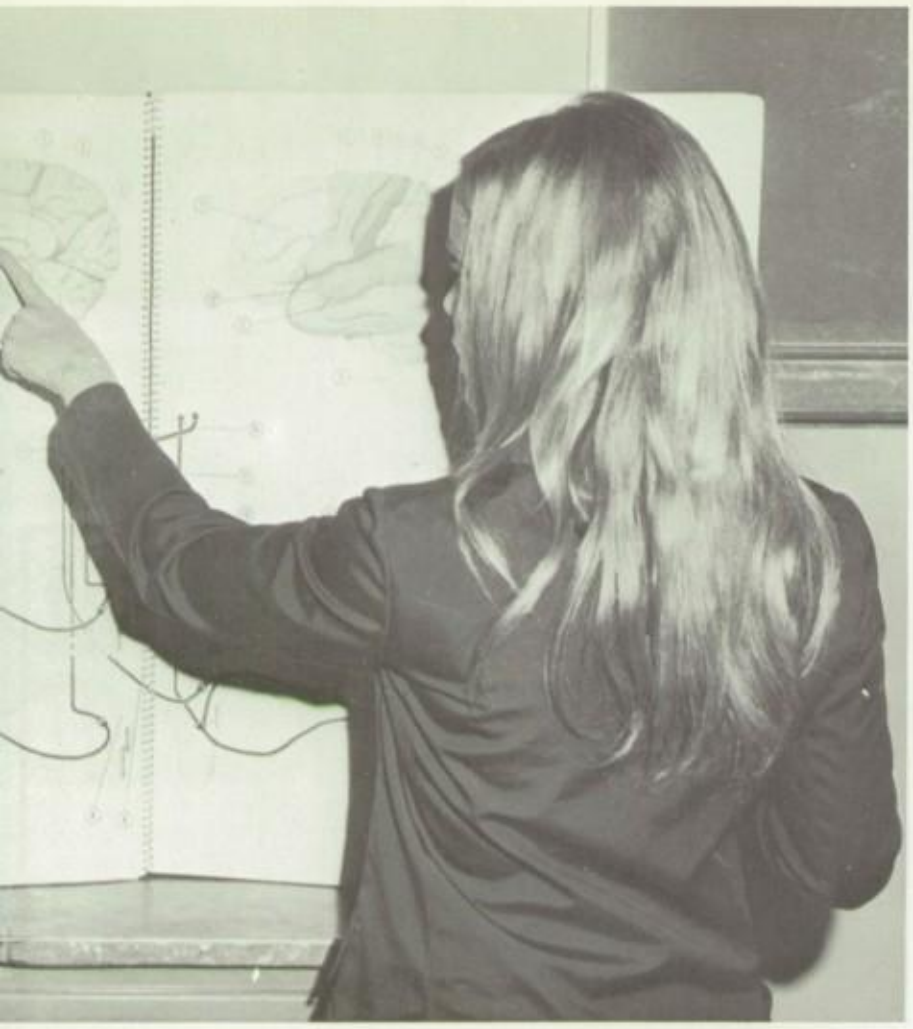
ELECTION '68

The Seniors, in their problem classes, voted for a Presidential candidate of their choice. They also voted for the propositions, Senators, and members of the House. During elections, many students worked at campaign headquarters of candidates. Their help was of great use.

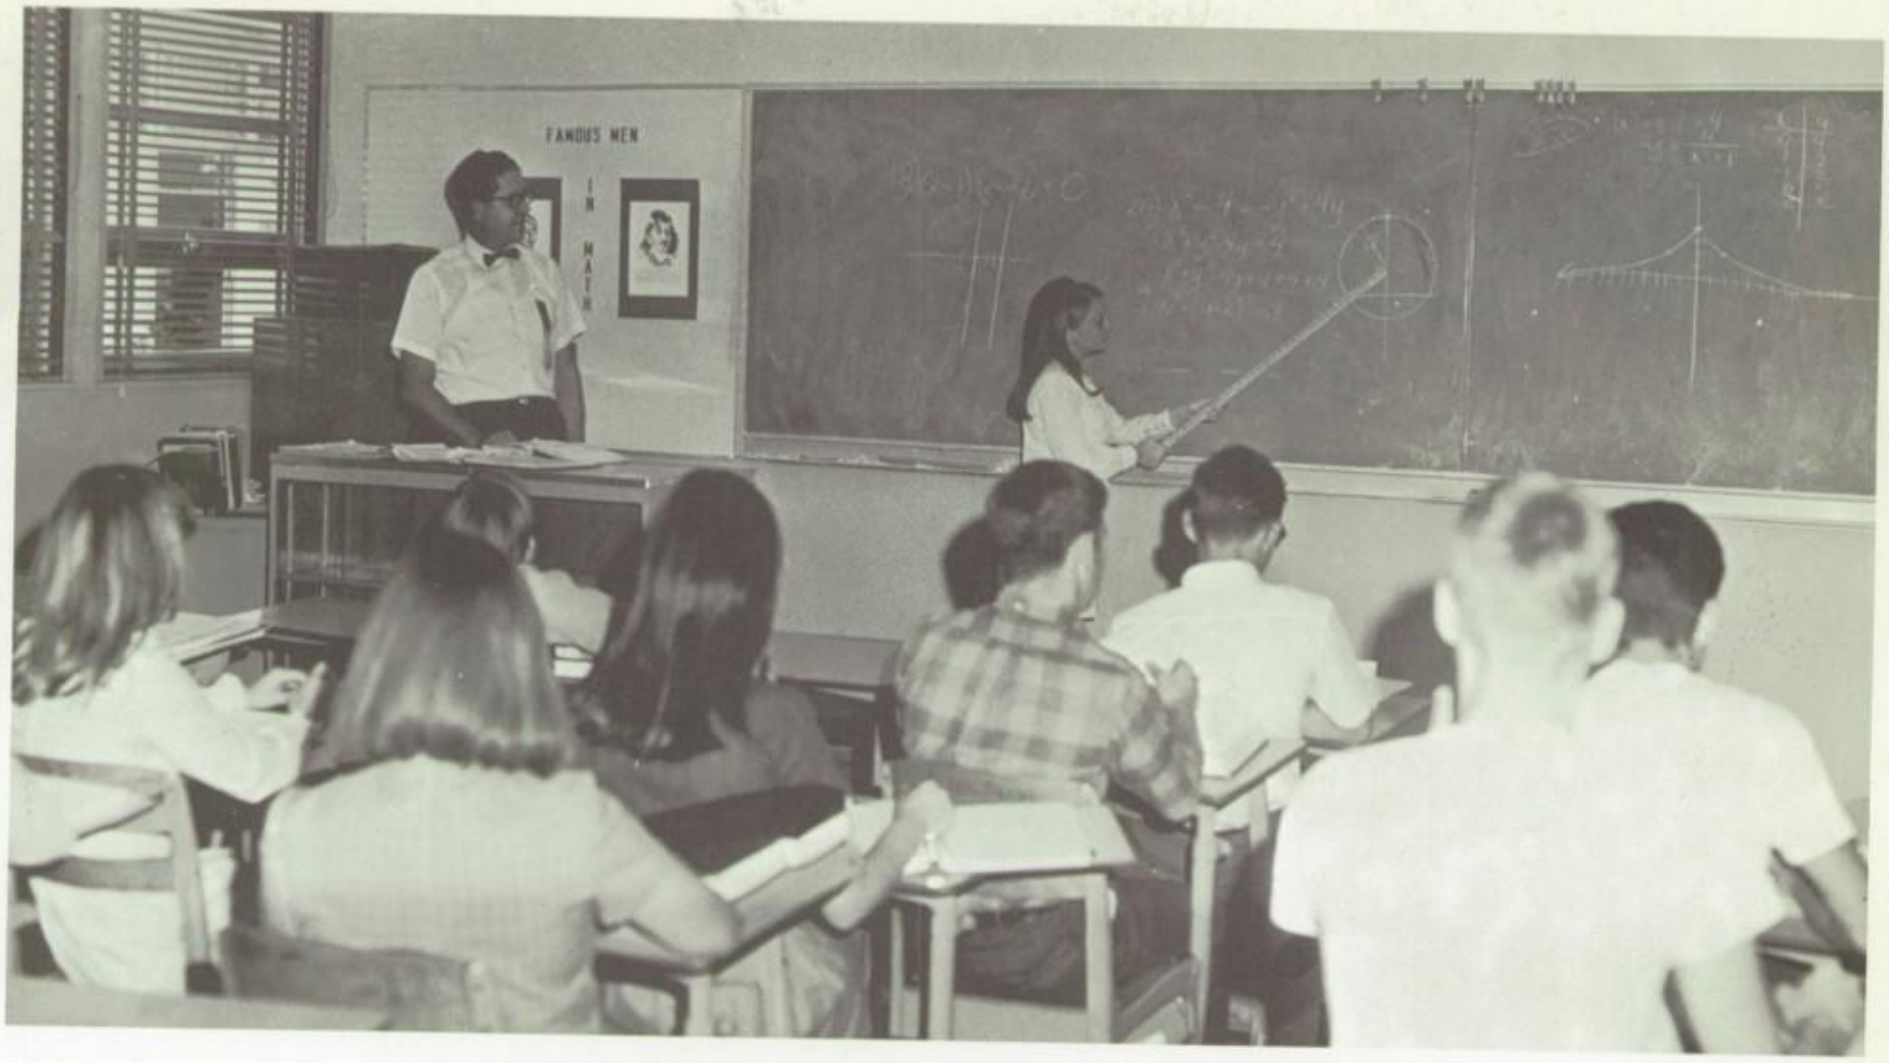
Adding the finishing touches to a political bulletin board was Carla McFalls, a student in a Problems of Democracy class. The elections of 1968 was one of the subjects the class studied.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Working towards the goal of giving their students a better insight of the world and the people around them, the social science department enlarged their knowledge in the fields of history, problems, and psychology. Because it was an election year, all the history and problems of democracy classes discussed and observed the Presidential election. The department also attempted to help the community by giving students courses in driver education. Students were taught driving procedure and the rules of the road.



Upper left: Two students, Carol Imsand and Maddy Pfau, discuss the parts of the barin in connection with their Psychology class. Lower left: Before and after school, Driver Education classes provided students with an opportunity to learn and improve upon their skill and knowledge of driving. Below: Mr. Mayo and a World History student used a map to locate some historically significant locations.



As Mr. Krabill looked on, Carole Finwall explained a problem to her advanced trigonometry class. Not only did participation by students aid in the understanding of their studies, but it also relieved the teachers of some of the tedious burdens of instructing their classes.

MATH

Digits, Ratios, Graphs

During the school year, a number of mathematical courses were offered to the student, including such courses as sophomore math, trigonometry, algebra, geometry, technical math, and senior math. Visual aids such as charts, 3-dimensional geometric figures, and bulletin boards often helped in the understanding of some of the seemingly incomprehensible problems. Through careful work and study, the majority of the students gained a knowledgeable background that would be very useful to them in future studies and occupational pursuits in life.

SCIENCE

Experiments In Lab

The science department consisting of biology, chemistry, and physics gave the students many fundamental facts of the different sciences for use in the future. In chemistry, the students learned how to make solutions and solve problems. With the aid of mathematical tools, physics students attempted to answer equations. Learning the structure of man was one of the goals in the biology classes. They ended the year with a complete dissection of a small fetal pig.

DRAMA

Mr. Miller's Drama class gave two fine performances during the year: "Our Town" and "Tom Sawyer", both of which drew large crowds. The leading role in both was played by Kelly Smith, an outstanding actor of Pacific High. The work of the stage crew was vital to the production of the plays.

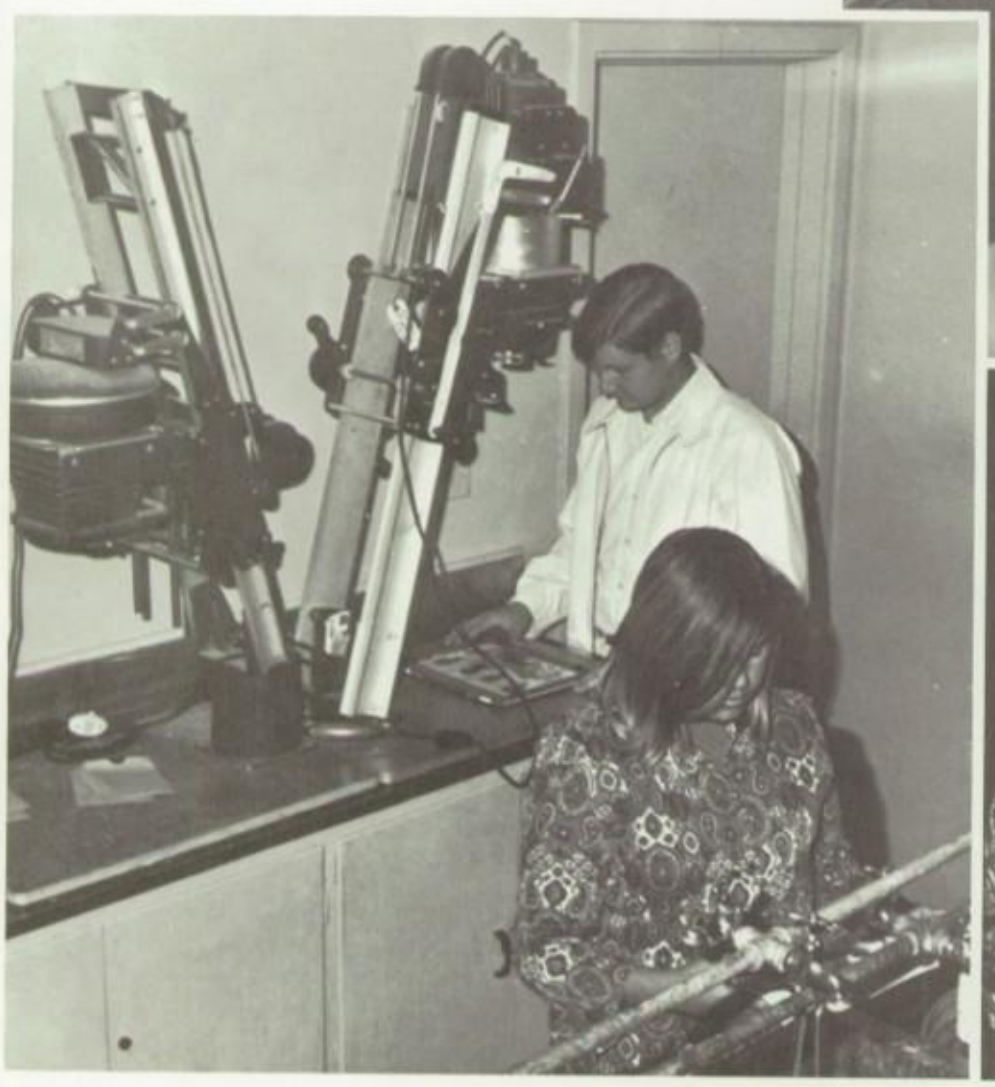
With the help of tissue paper and starch, art students diligently worked on pictures which gave them basic ideas in paper structure. After learning the basic ideas they were able to use their knowledge to complete more complicated pictures, designs, and figures.

APPLIED ARTS

Giving the students an opportunity to demonstrate their creative abilities, the Applied Arts Department offered classes of homemaking, photography, and art. The girls in homemaking were taught how to plan meals and fashion clothes. The class also gave instruction for child care. Through the art classes, the students learned the basic steps for commercial and industrial designs. The photography class worked along with the Pacificana and Hi Tide staffs, giving them the pictures for the many deadlines which occurred during the school year. The classes prepared students for the future.

Middle left: Working long hours developing pictures, Dennis used the enlarger for the correct size of the final. Ruby helped him by putting the final into the developing liquid. Top right: Helping art students understand how to illustrate paintings from books, the Visual Arts Company gave a free display of paintings.



Middle right: After spending many hours of work on a design, a crafts student added the finishing touches to her key. Bottom right: Learning how to improve the methods of preparing meals, a girl in homemaking whipped up a serving of pudding, completing the work for the meal which she then enjoyed with her friends.

Left: In addition to collecting the absentee slips, the girls who worked in the attendance office spent their time finding out who was absent during which periods. Right: Kathy Bryant and Cyndie Jefferson practiced drills on adding machines. Their goal was speed plus accuracy.

BUSINESS

The business department worked with students to help them learn and apply their knowledge to future jobs. Through the department students practiced working in the various offices and gained useful experience for their following years of work.

Desma Bigelow helped the office secretaries by answering the switchboard. This gave her valuable experience for future jobs.

Helping out Mr. Brickley, Debi Miller, just one of Mr. Brickley's many student secretaries, took down an important letter in shorthand as he dictated it to her. This was her main job, but she also helped Mr. Brickley with many of his other functions that he worked on.

Drills And Reviews

Preparing young men for a future in the Armed Forces was the goal of Colonel Betts and the Cadet Corp. The cadets had training which was similar to what is found in the military. Presenting the colors at the home games, policing the science fair, and helping with the cross country were some of the duties of the cadets at Pacific High.

Showing one of the many abilities that an agricultural student learns, Jeff Cadien operated a skiploader. Knowing how to use and operate the machinery was a goal for all the members in that class. After careful guidance and practice, they achieved this goal.

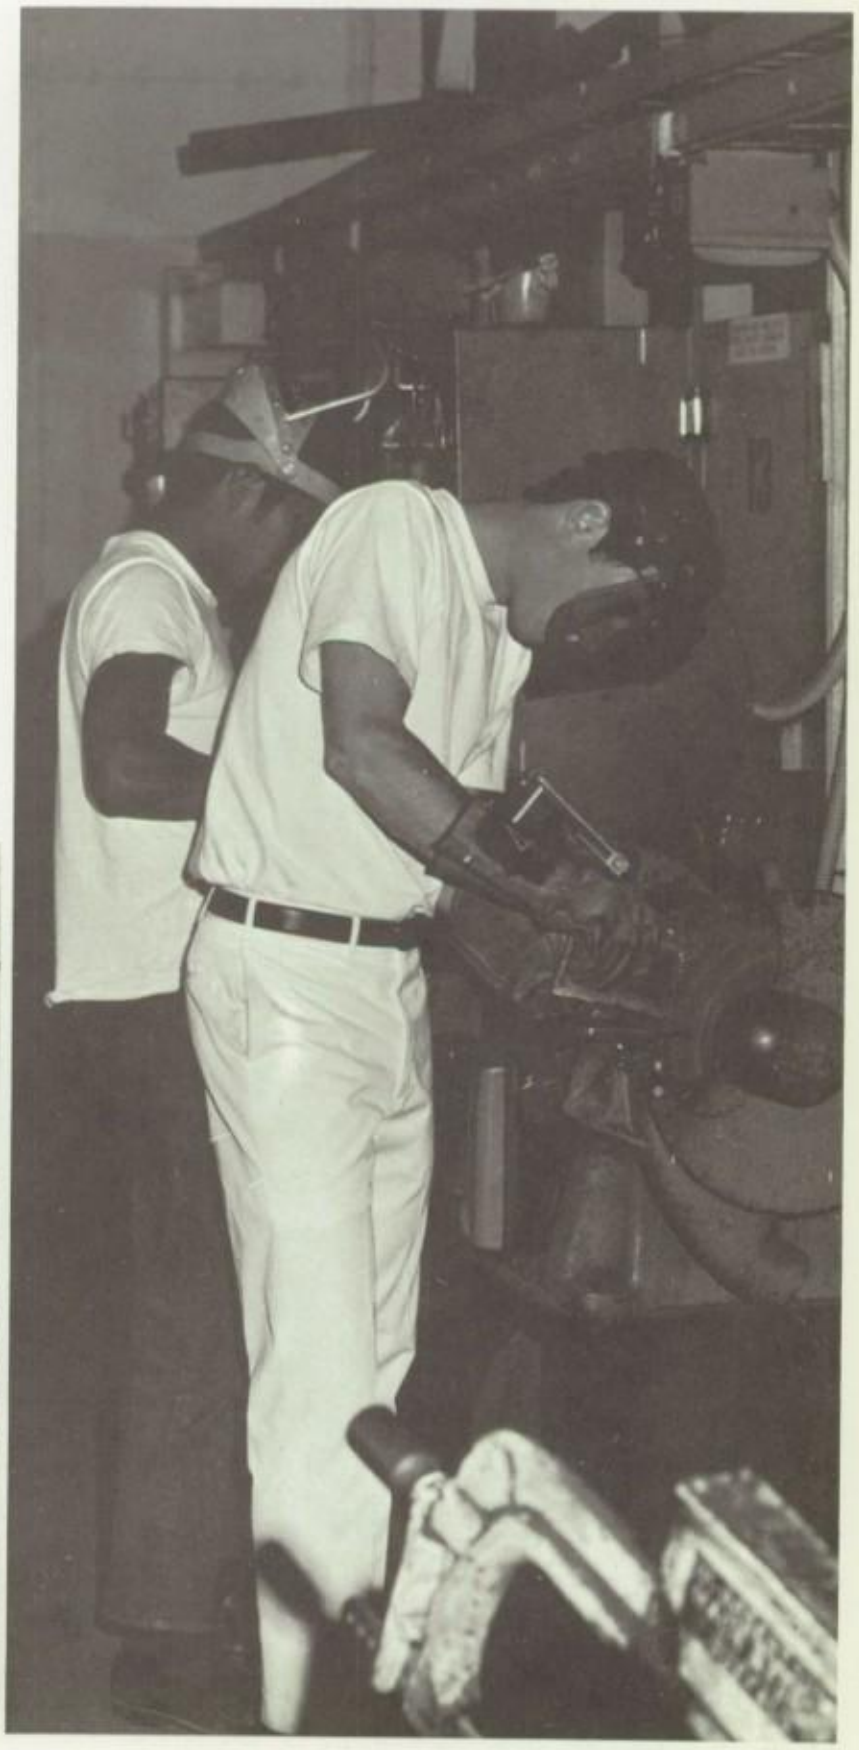
INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Vocational Study

Developing future occupations was one of the main functions of the Industrial Arts department. In the shop classes, the selection of courses from which a student could choose was large enough for most interests. The boys who were more mechanically minded had the choice of either auto shop or electronics. The ones interested in working with objects had the selection of cabinet shop, drafting, welding or sheet metal shop. In the agricultural department, courses ranging from horticultural to power mechanics were offered to interested boys of the school.



Transplanting bushes into a newly cultivated area, some of the horticulture class added the finishing touches after many hours of work.

The turning of class rings by seniors graduated the juniors to seniors and was an annual event all juniors anxiously awaited.

Juniors' Everyday Activities at Pacific . . .

Congregating in the library, juniors spent time before and after school and during their lunch period working on term papers and research papers, doing homework and checking out books for reading during their spare time. The library was ideal for study.

Socializing was a great pastime when there was free time before classes. The juniors almost always had something to talk about or discuss such as the books they had read in English classes or field trips they had gone on or who was going to the game.

Some work, some play, some study, some . . .

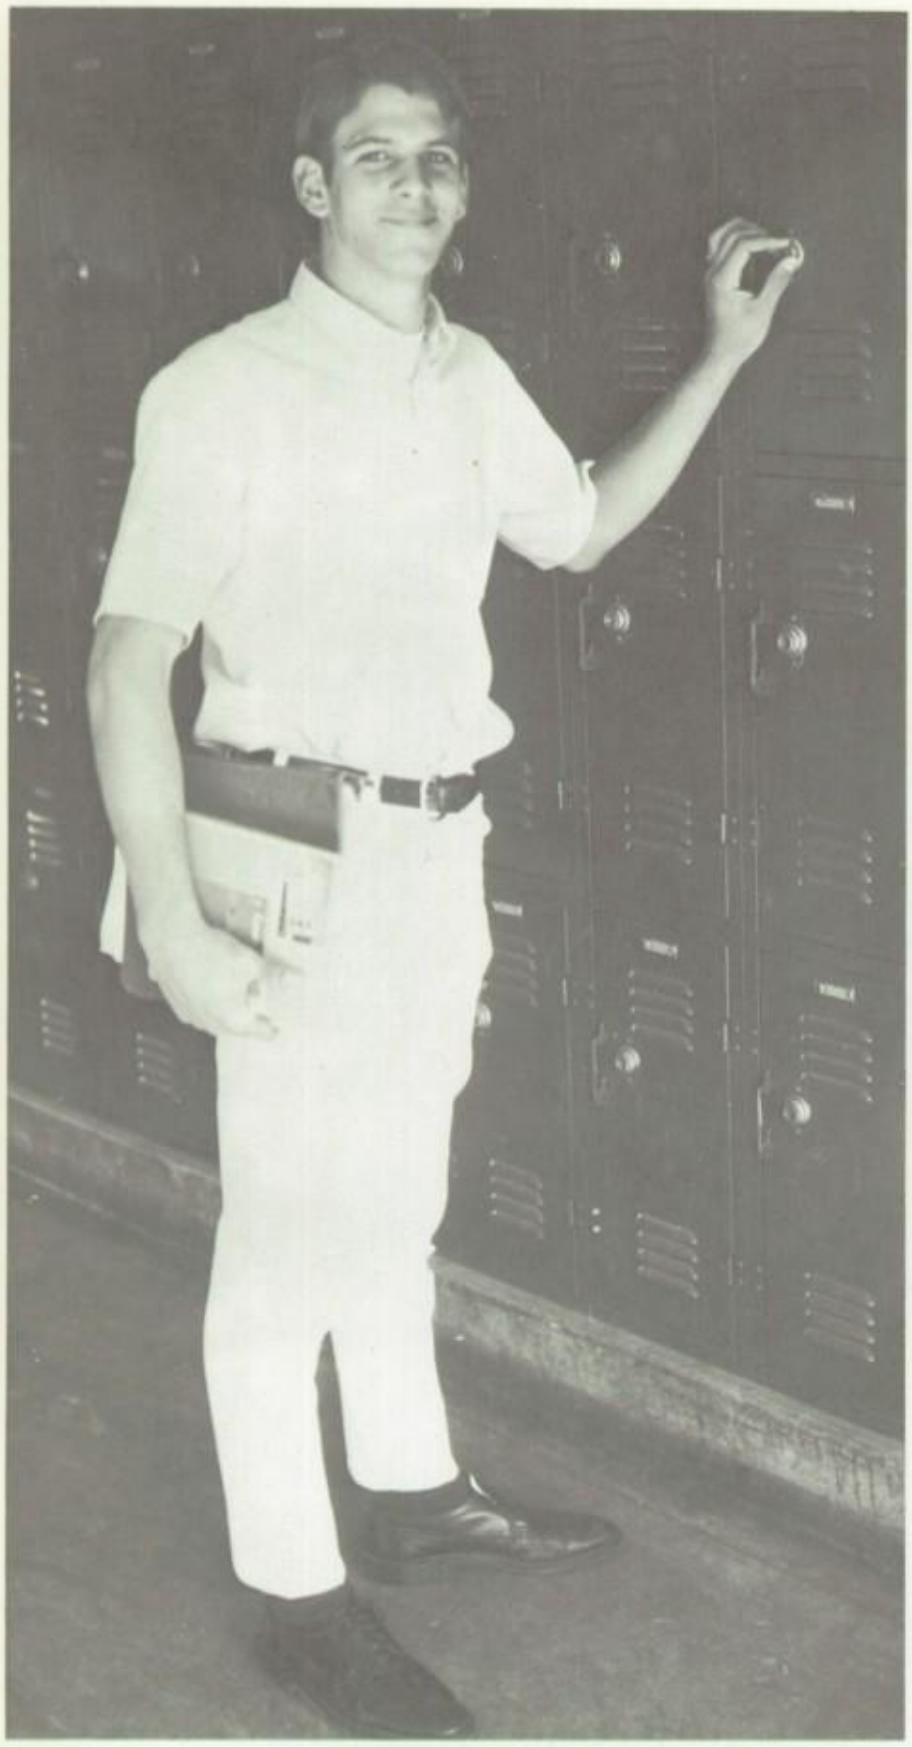
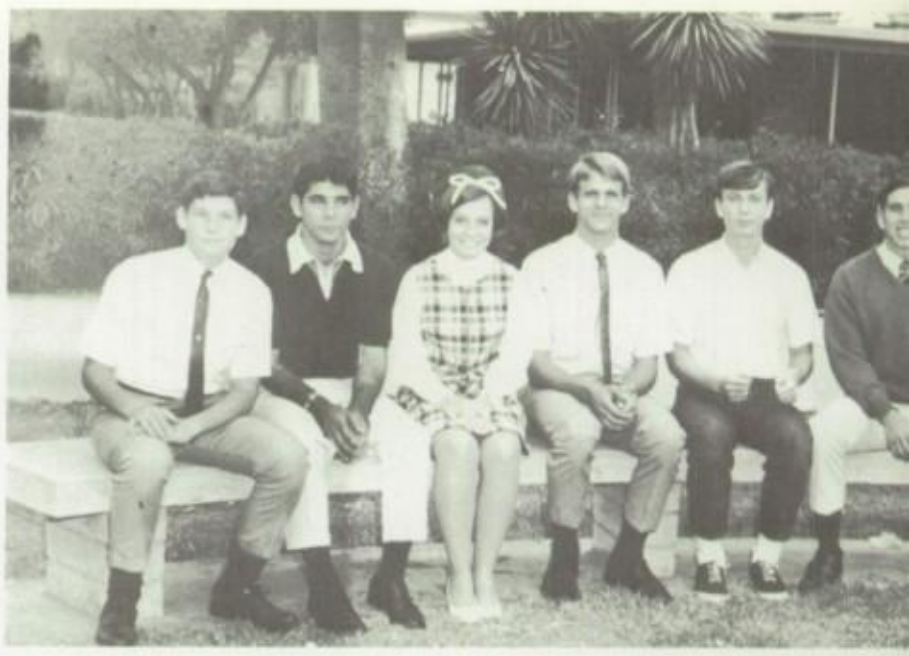
Extra-curricular activities provided juniors

Below: Vigorously working in support of their class were juniors Debi Roberts, Sue Roddy and Jenny Rife. Many energetic class members turned out for this car wash and contributed their time and efforts towards a successful prom. Upper right: Straining to make it across the finish after an exhausting two mile run, was Jim Byer, junior cross countryman. Lower right: Demonstrating the art of sinking a ten-footer was Bob Becerra as Bee cheerleader Lisa McCuistion spirited the team towards victory.

with many friends, some fun and some frolic.



Leading the class of '70 in numerous activities and money-making projects were the junior class officers: Chris Smith, president, Rick Forte, vice-president, Sue Becker, secretary, Bill Schobert, treasurer, Harvey Guzik, Sonny Davis, and Jeff Shane, representatives. They were greatly aided by their sponsors: Mr. Bahr, Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Cridelich, and Mrs. Kirk. Together they achieved much success and produced great enthusiasm throughout the year for the class of 1970.



Above shown are the 1968-1969 junior class officers. Together, through much discussion and preparation, they contributed to the makings of a very profitable year. Casually reminiscing events from the past year, are the junior sponsors seen below.

An Unforgettable Night in Vienna

vivid memories lingered

Among the many who attended the Prom were Tim Wiegart and Sue Becker. At right they are shown posing for a picture at the Mediterranean restaurant. And below Tim kindly helped Sue down the stairs. It's a known fact, Prom time bestows joyful and unforgettable memories to all.

PROM '69

In the spring of every school year, the Prom brings waiting anticipation and frenzic excitement to each person involved. This year's theme was "Night in Vienna," the setting a romantic Viennese ballroom.

Discussing various articles and ideas for stories were some of the junior members of High Tide. From left they are: Cindy Lewis, Managing Editor, Sara Phrommer, Features Editor, Beverly Jerman, Assisting Manager, Ken Shimizu, photographer, Jenny Hild, reporter, and Susan Lopez, Exchange Editor. Not shown in the picture were members Scott Kay, Sports Editor, Lynette Northrup, Brian Kyle, Rick Hyle, and Randy Rodden, reporters. Together, this industrious staff labored toward the completion of every deadline to inform the student body of all current happenings weekly.

1968 FOOTBALL HOMECOMING

Lovely Becky Reigned

Amid the splendor of a Storybook Land theme, Jody Schakel crowned Becky Wagoner as the 1968 homecoming queen. In descending order, Beverly Brooks, Kathy Schakel, Cathi Monninger, and Jill Racoosin were crowned as princesses. Along with the lovely coronation of the court was the announcement of the winner of the competition for floats, Lehis. Returned leadership girls added to the occasion's thrill and excitement.

Upper left: Bob Schmidt was named an All-CBL guard and was presented a trophy at a Booster Club meeting by Coach Tony Finazzo. Upper right: Coach Niemeyer, Mr. Williams and Mrs. Brickley seated at the head table, were enthusiastic supporters of the Booster Club and its many functions. Lower right: Booster Club Awards Banquets were always popular with the members of the football team as well as with the club members and coaching staff. Below: Club president, Ken McGowan, frequently addressed the group about the various varsity athletic teams at Pacific.

BOOSTER CLUB

Ken McGowan Presided

The terrific undertaking of Pacific's Booster Club was to honor and recognize as many members of our school as possible for their physical, as well as scholastic, achievements. They presented four successful banquets. At that time, trophies, furnished by the Booster Club, were awarded to various students and faculty members who participated in sports. All of Pacific's athletic teams were supported by this group. They bought over $550 worth of film. Scholarships were given to several deserving pupils. Mr. Ken McGowan, president, and his hard-working staff, helped over 1600 students at Pacific High School.

UPPER RIGHT and LOWER LEFT: The Thanksgiving Basket Drive, a successful PTA project, was supported by Key Clubers who delivered the baskets. LOWER RIGHT: The members of the Parent-Teacher Association held monthly meetings to discuss the problems and needs of Pacific. BELOW: Terri Clarkson, Pacific's PTA-Student Coordinator, addressed the group on student activities.

1968—1969 PTA:

Mrs. Nelson Presided

Donating many hours of their time to improving Pacific were the many members of the PTA. The parents worked with the faculty to increase understanding between the school and the community and helped the school staff to attain its goals. Their goals included the establishment of funds for scholarships, needy students, and special projects. President Margaret Nelson was effective in keeping communication between students, administrators, parents, and the Board of Education. A luncheon welcoming the faculty in September and the Thanksgiving Basket and Clothes Closet Drives to aid indigent families were among the PTA's projects throughout this year.

Leading the rest of her squad and students in cheers at rallies and games was Jolita Feltzs, Head Cheerleader for 1968-1969.

Many long hours of diligent practice went into the perfection of the 1968-69 Varsity Cheerleading squad. Under the direction of Jolita Feltzs, head cheerleader, the group achieved great success throughout a very active year. During the many football games, rallies, pep assemblies, and basketball games, the cheerleaders aroused the necessary enthusiasm and spirit to urge the Pirates on to a victorious year. The rest of the squad included Marcia Rosar, Chris King, Becky Wagoner, Cathi Monninger, Becky Terry, and Terri Clarkson. Special awards earned by the cheerleaders at many competitions and parades brought esteem to Pacific as well as the group under the supervision of Miss Karen Lemon. Their uniforms that included white sweaters with a purple "V" and white skirts with purple insets. The 1968-69 cheerleaders proved through many fine performances that they were a very outstanding leadership group.

PEP ASSEMBLIES

Spirited students expressed their support for the varsity teams at the weekly pep assemblies which were held during football and basketball seasons. Humorous skits performed by the Pacific Players entertained the student body, while the cheers led by the assorted leadership groups brought forth tremendous enthusiasm from them. The varsity team members facetiously portrayed the most outstanding members of the opposing teams at the pep assemblies. These skits boosted the teams' morale and contributed to their successful year. Such well-known speakers as Val Gould and Brick Neighbors enlightened the crowd on colorful topics concerning the young generation.

Performing with well-organized precision, the Varsity Pom Pons for 1968-69 entertained the student body and faculty at the many pep assemblies with their graceful routines. Under the direction of Head Pom Christie Nitteberg, the group demonstrated delicate movements and dainty shuffles to many popular musical numbers. The rest of the squad included Carla Christensen, Mary Wallenberg, Mary Grace, Nancy Mulcahy, Lillian Lebeck, and Kathy Schakel.

Half-time routines at the basketball and football games were perfectly executed each week by the Poms. In addition to performing routines, the Poms helped the Varsity Cheerleaders arouse school spirit at rallies and games by cheering along with them. The full-skirted uniforms of the Varsity Poms were white cotton with purple trim and a purple collar. The highlights of the year for the Poms included parades and competitions throughout Southern California area.

When students had some extra time on their hands, they found the quad to be an ideal location to gather with friends and make many new acquaintances. They discussed almost everything imaginable before school, during lunch, and after school, usually in bright clear weather.

QUAD

Fond and Memorable Moments Were Recalled By All PHS Students

It is essential for students who want to obtain a well-rounded education to have a place to gather at their leisure. The quad in the center of Pacific's campus was such a place. Here, all students could congregate with their friends and discuss anything from politics to the latest gossip. In addition to being the center of social activity, it also provided each student with a place to do independent study or have an informal lunch period. The quad left some fond memories with students of Pacific.

Left: The morning after the quad had been decorated with toilet paper, Patti Roberts, Rick Bales, Lisa McCuistion, and Bob Schmidt took time to rest and admire the quad's "new appearance." Right: Studying for exams during lunch was popular with students like Curt Rea and others.

Promoting school spirit and enthusiasm at the football and basketball games were the varsity flags. In addition to performing routines at half-times, the flags worked out motions to accompany the poms and cheerleaders. Bonnie, Nancy, Dolly, Jane, Sharon, and Linda are Twirling, tossing and waving their bright purple taffeta flags were the Pacific High Varsity Flags for 1968-69. Brenda Plymesser provided the necessary leadership as head Flag, to guide this spirited group through a highly successful year. The rest of the squad included seniors Sharon Corcoran, Nancy Newman, Bonnie Shrader, and Jane Eichelberger. Junior squad members were Linda Bales and Dolly Michaelis. The Varsity Flags' uniforms were full skirts and made of white crepe, trimmed with purple satin. At pep assemblies and during the half-times at the many basketball and football games, the Flags performed graceful routines to the popular songs of such famous groups as the Tijuana Brass. The group performed at a University of Southern California Band Field Day in the fall. They also could be found marching in local Christmas parades and participating in Flag Twirler competition. The flags were spirited and graceful.

An Inspiration To Athletic Groups

The 1968-69 "Bee" Pom Pons were involved in a very active year. Their purple and white cotton uniforms accented the routines which they performed at assemblies and during the half-time activities at both football and basketball games. As head "Bee" Pom, Cheri Caldwell proved to be an excellent leader for the other "Bee" Poms, Charlyn Thames, Ruth Mays, Sue Miller, and Kimm DeMeester. Their year was highlighted by performances in parades and competitions.

BEE FLAGS

New Leadership Group

Pacific's newest leadership group, the "Bee" Flags, proved to be a vital addition at many Junior Varsity and "Bee" football and basketball games. Led by Barbara Hunter, this vivacious squad also consisted of Pattie Wilmert and Karen Hall. Their uniforms were purple velvet with a crisp white bib. Rallies, parades, assemblies, and competition kept these girls occupied when they weren't busy working on new routines at practices. In addition to performing routines, the "Bee" Flags also led cheers with the "Bee" Cheerleaders and Poms to arouse the crowd spirit.

MEXICAN FOLK DANCERS

hosted by PHS Students

Hosting professional Mexican folk dancers in their homes was rewarding and memorable experience for Spanish-speaking Pacific students. This event took place February 27 and 28 for these dancers from Mexico City. On the night of the twenty-eighth,. they presented a program for the people of San Bernardino. Left: Leslie Waddell described her cheerleading outfit to her guests. Below are two dancers in their costumes.

Political Campaigners

Local and national elections aroused the interests of many students at Pacific High School, like Mike Evans, Bob Wilson, and Mary Minick, who, at right, were seen campaigning for the candidates of their choice.

"Girl of the Year"

Being named "Outstanding Girl of the Year" for her community service was quite an honor for Sharon Jordan. She, her sister, Marilyn, and Barbara Henderson gave many hours of their valuable time to the Home of Neighborly Service in San Bernardino.

The 1969-70 Student Body Officers Chosen

Electing next year's student body officers was an important event during the spring. The newly elected officers and their appointed assistants will compose the 1969-70 student council. Weeks of diligent preparation went into designing posters, making ribbons, and writing speeches necessary for a successful campaign for the council offices.

Adding to the excitement of all of the home football games was the Pacific High Marching Band. Many long hours of exhausting practice on the field went into the perfection of the band's rhythmic marching. In addition to their inspirational and original performances at the assemblies, the marching band played a variety of songs to accompany the leadership squads during the halftimes. Under the capable direction of Harry Harbaugh, the group marched with precision in a number of local parades with the drill team. Drum majors Sue Fullerton and Danny Clark were also conductors of the band. Together, they gave a great deal of their time to help Mr. Harbaugh prepare the group for the parades and concerts.

ORANGE SHOW

Pacific Students Enjoyed Hours of Rides And Entertainment

The 54th annual National Orange Show, running from March 6th to March 16th, provided the students of Pacific with hours of entertainment. Innumerable rides offered a chance for unforgettable thrills. For the thriftier students, free entertainment, exhibits, and interesting sights could be found throughout the grounds. The variety of foods was large enough to suit the tastes of everyone. This event was looked forward to by all students and they showed their enthusiasm in the throngs that attended.

SPRING VACATION

From the Scintil-lating Slopes to the Sunny Shores

Spring Vacation came the first week in April bringing with it welcome relief from the daily routine of school. Taking advantage of their extra time, students could be found throughout Southern California. Many traveled to nearby mountain resorts to try and conquer the snow-covered slopes. The beaches were also crowded with students celebrating the week by battling the waves and bathing in the sun. Others used the week for catching up on their school work. Everyone was sad when the vacation was over and the campus reopened.

Upper left: Lorene Jackson attacked some specie of marine life on the beach during her stay at Laguna as her two friends looked on. Left: Preparing for another fun-filled day on Newport Beach was Maddy Pfau who spent the week there with a group. Lower left: Skiing accidents on the slopes at Snow Valley proved to be very frustrating for Linda Newman. Fortunately, such kind people as Susie Swank offered assistance to a skier in distress. Lower center and right: Exhibiting the perfect form of skiers were Marcia Rosar and Susie Swank.

Football 1968

Pacific High's Varsity Football team was supported by the whole student body which inspired the team's pride in their school. The school's excellent coaching staff did a fine job bolstering the team's spirit. The new coaches brought along some original ideas with them from their alma maters. One of these unique ideas was to paint the helmets the opposing school's colors to build up our team's spirit. Pride helped to inpire our teams.

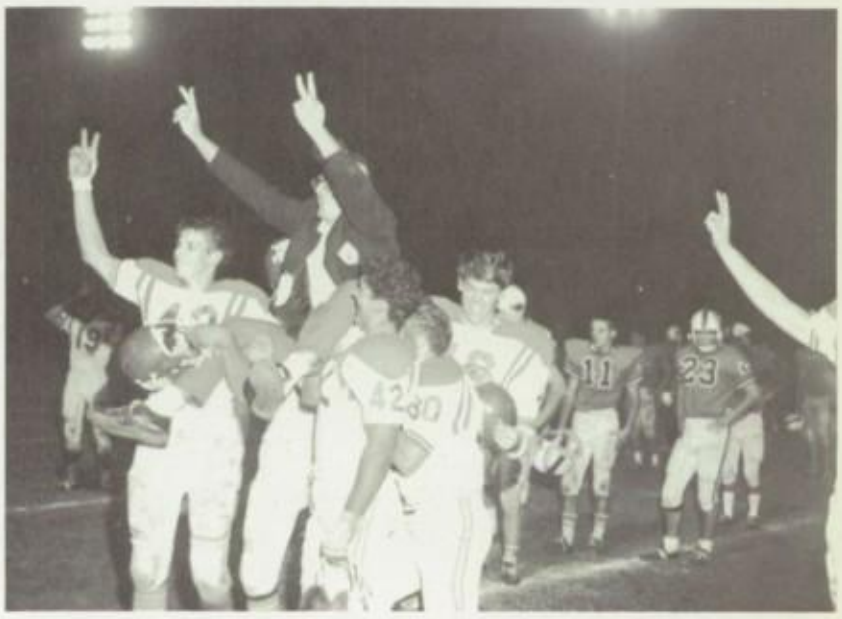
Ken Bailey swept around the right end on a keep. He did this on several plays and ground out many yards.

Swinging around the right end was Bernard Thompson. Here he left the whole Gorgonio line behind him. Thompson made many first downs during the football season.

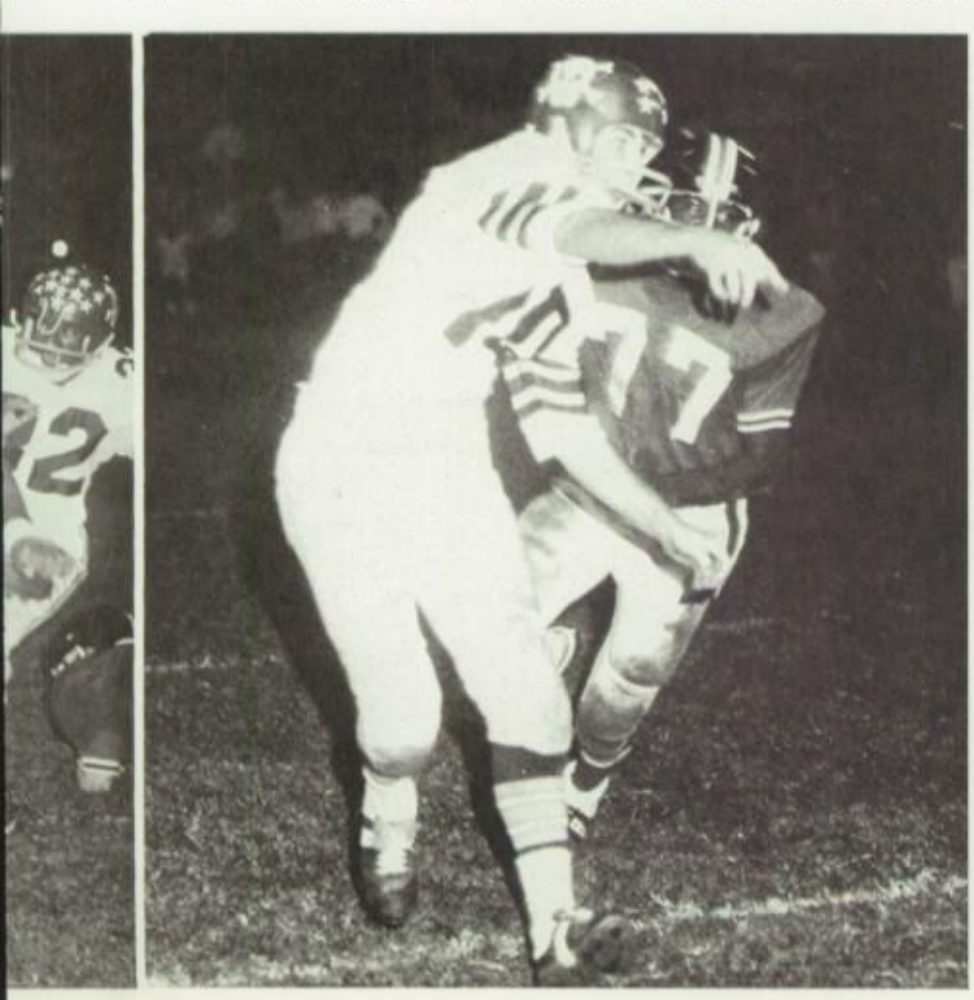
An unidentified Pacific Pirate blocked out two San Bernardino players enabling our quarterback to throw a screen pass and make the first down.

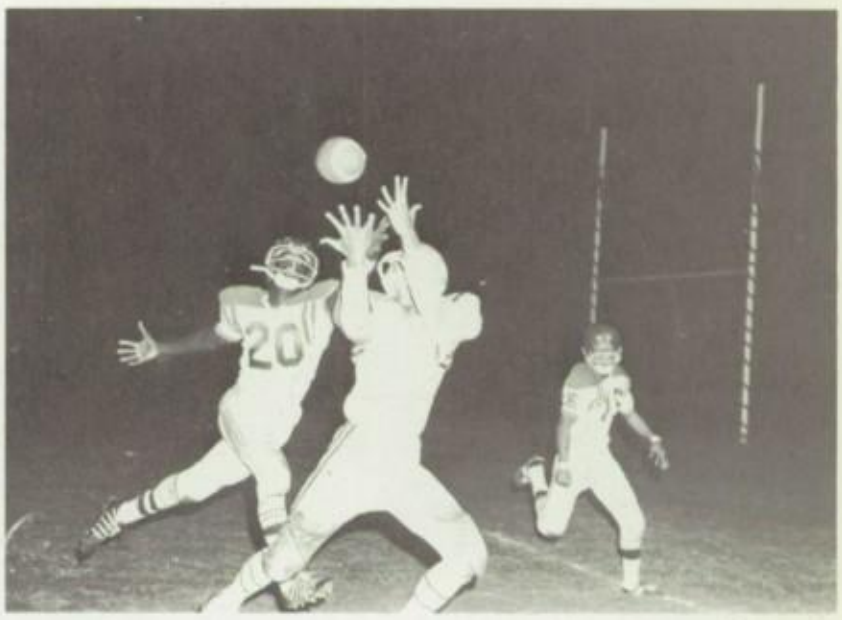
Three Pirates closed in on a San Bernardino runner who was attempting to run around the right end. We won the game 13-6.

Don Gradle and another Pirate caught a San Gorgonio Spartan behind the line to throw them for a 10 yard loss. Despite this they won the game.



Barely getting the pass off was Ken Bailey while a Berdoo tackler came up from behind. It was completed for a 10 yard gain.





Linebackers

The Linebacker organization of Pacific was a highly successful group of parents concerned with the financial and moral support of Pacific's football teams. They attended all the games and sponsored the Awards Banquet.

Bursting out in a big smile Rick Bales received the Best Tackle Award at the banquet from Mr. Williams, president of the Linebackers.

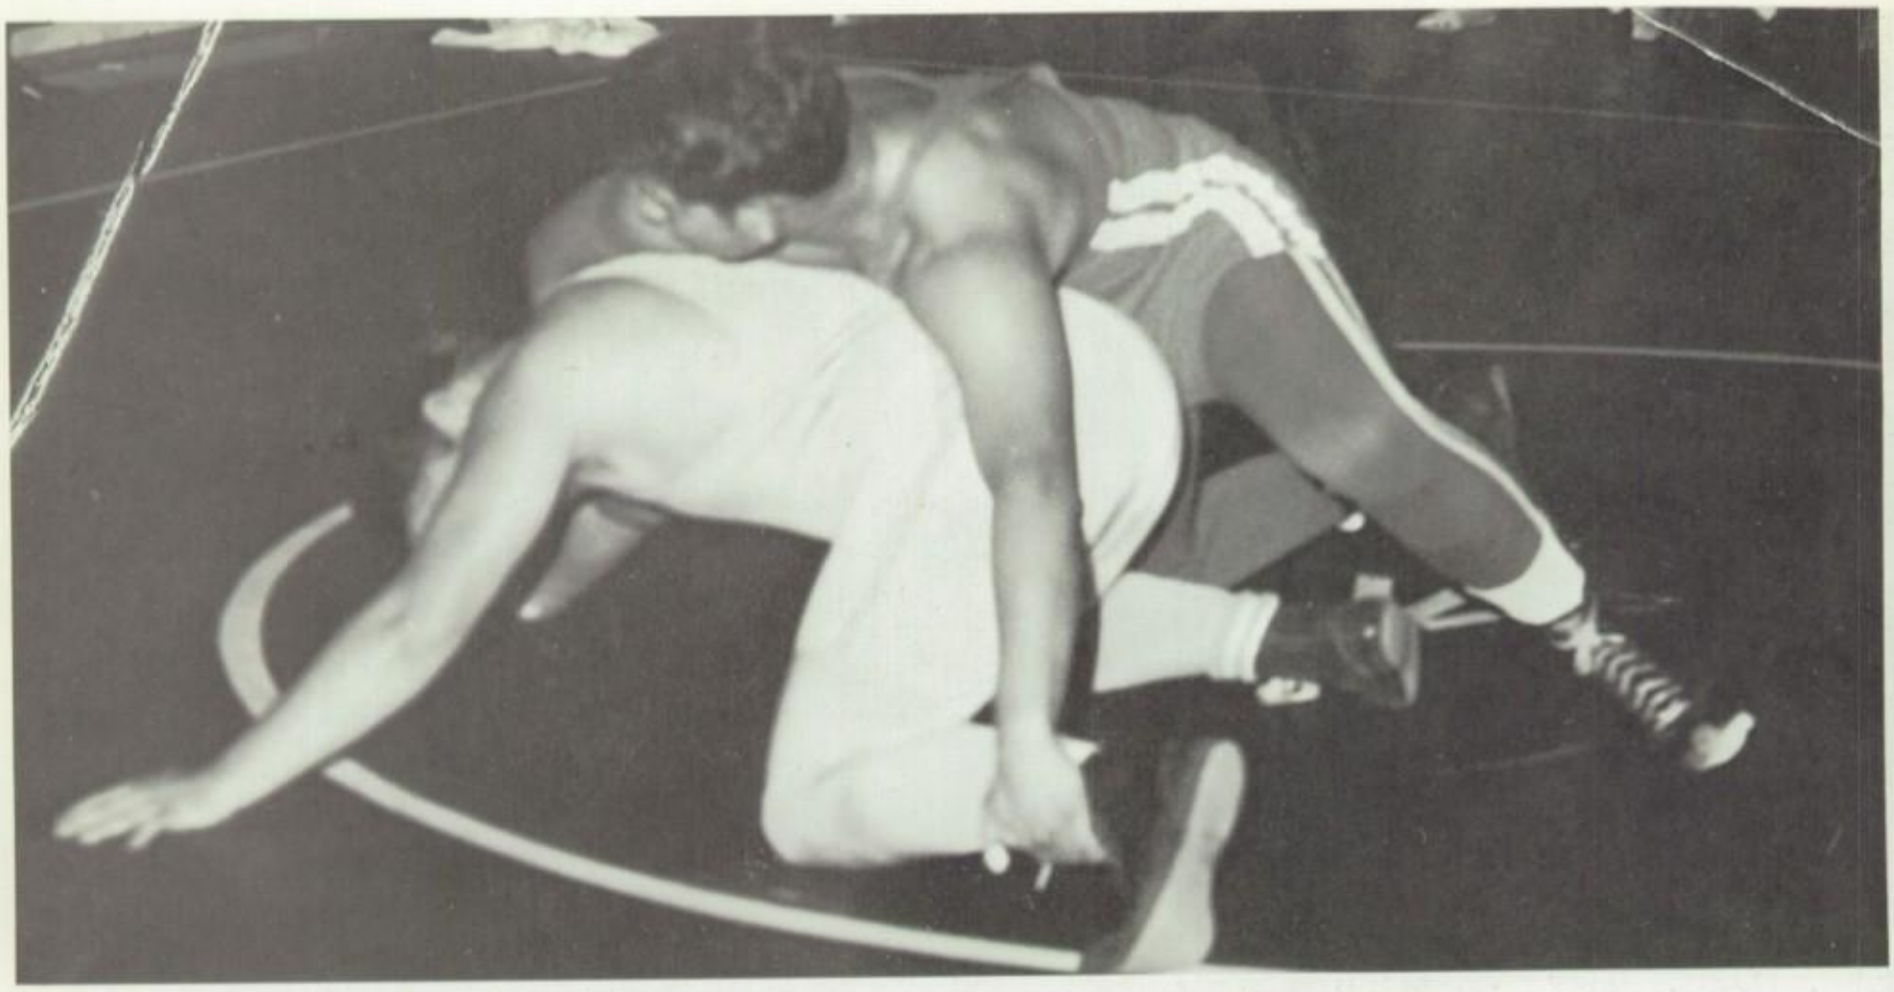
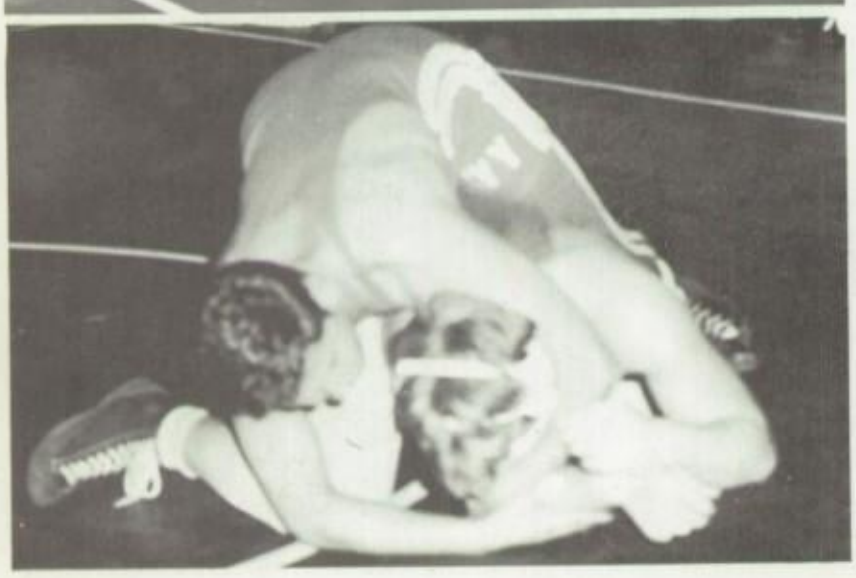
Row 3 Varsity Team: Jim Moodey, Robert Espinosa, Pete Harmon, Chris Nielsen, Haskel Herndon, and Mark Lundy.

The season's record for the Varsity consisted of one win against San Bernardino High School. The team lost the other seven meets to the opposing schools. The JV team had the misfortune of losing all of its games. The Sophomores outpaced San Bernardino, Redlands, Ramona, Chaffey, and Fontana. Left: Sprinting off the starting line, Barry Kayrell and Mike McClaughry started to set their pace with the other competitors. Both of them placed high in the run gaining low points for Pacific. The Sophomores went on to the CBL meet and placed second against the toughest team competition.

Above: Three Pirates at an invitational held at Pacific battled between themselves to place on the list of winners. Below: Starting to ascend the hill, Bob Espinosa showed the Pirates and the Chaffey Tigers the way to win a race.



The Pacific wrestling squad advanced when it served as a host against Eisenhower and gained another win. Its chances for entering CIF competition became even more established. Above, in the heavyweight division Tom Seccombe illustrated excellent skill over his opponent.



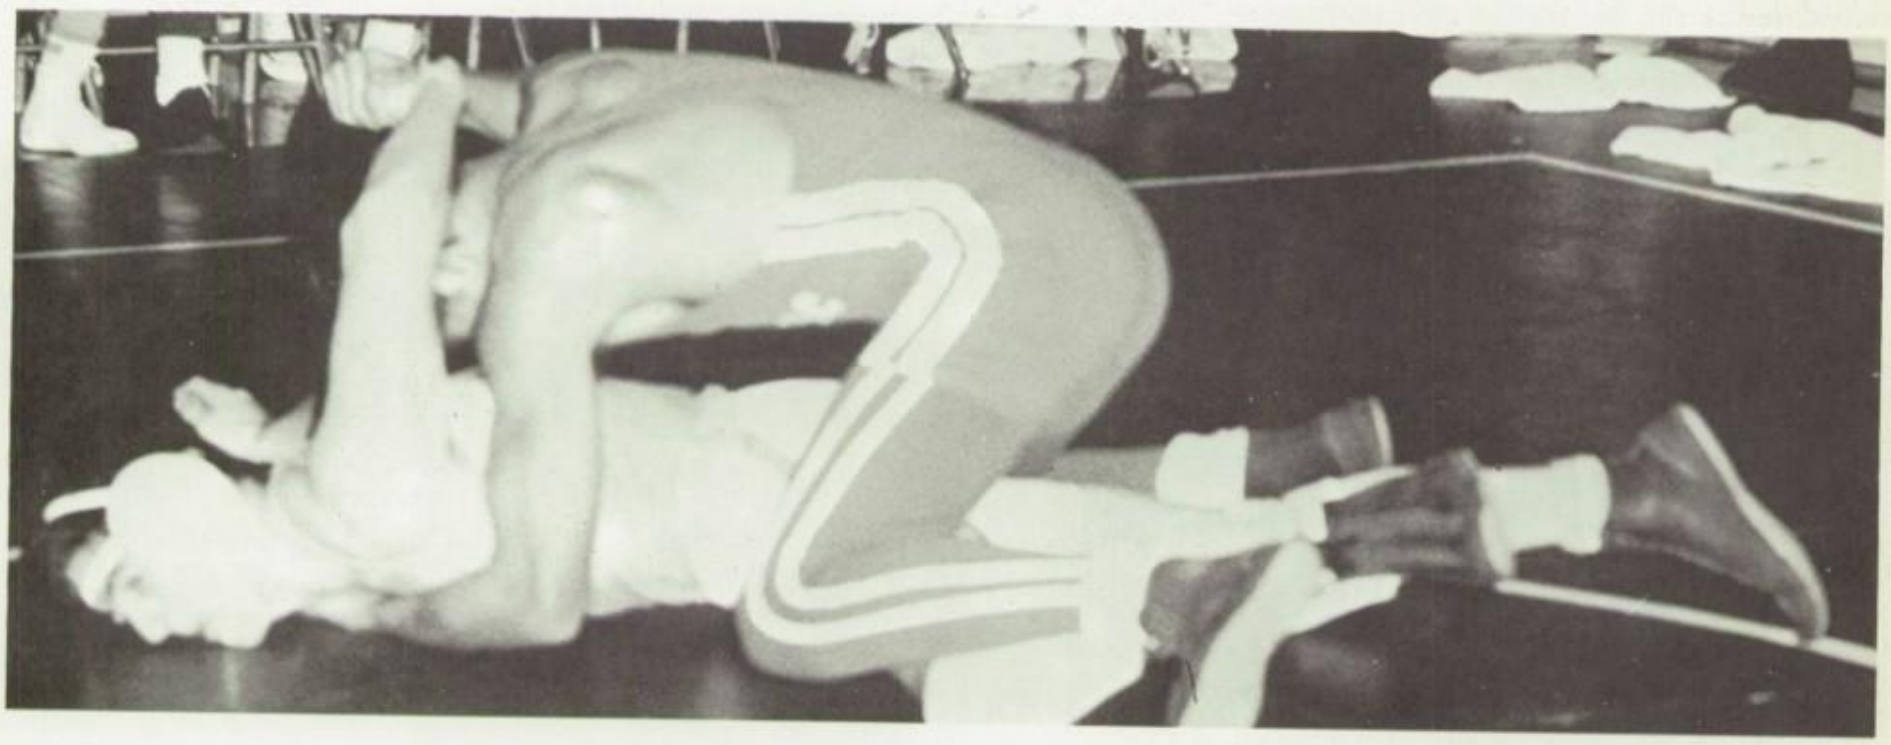
WRESTLING

Pacific Won CBL

Under the direction of Coach Liles, our team spent many long hours of practice on the mat. Challenging the coach, and lifting weights in training made a team that Pacific will always be proud of. The Varsity easily won all seven of the Citrus Belt League matches and entered CIF competition. CIF quarterfinals were held at Pacific and the finals at Fullerton, where we placed a second in the federation. Liles, who had a fine record for coaching college champions will lead on the Junior Varsity team next year.

Above: Pinning his man while the referee looked on, Tom Munoz successfully overpowered his Kennedy opponent. Pacific won the match with a substantial lead over the grapplers from Kennedy High School. Tom succeeded in gaining valuable points in many Pacific matches.

Below: Driving his opponent into the mat, Marcellino Gonzales attempted to turn his man over to pin him. Gonzales was new to the team this year but quickly caught on and gained many points for us. Pacific won all seven of its matches and went into the CIF action.



Below: Nachito Valdez throws in the other half against his San Bernardino opponent. With Al Liles as his coach, Nachito gained recognition as being one of the highest scorers on the Pacific High team. Nachito has been wrestling for one year and weighs in at 98 pounds.

The 1969 Pacific Golf Team started their season off with tournaments against San Bernardino, Chaffey, Redlands. Left: Coach Dan Young displayed the perfect form needed to drive the ball far down the course. Far left: Mike Evans was the number one player of this year's team. He led the team in scoring and here displayed the technique he used to win many of the matches that he entered.

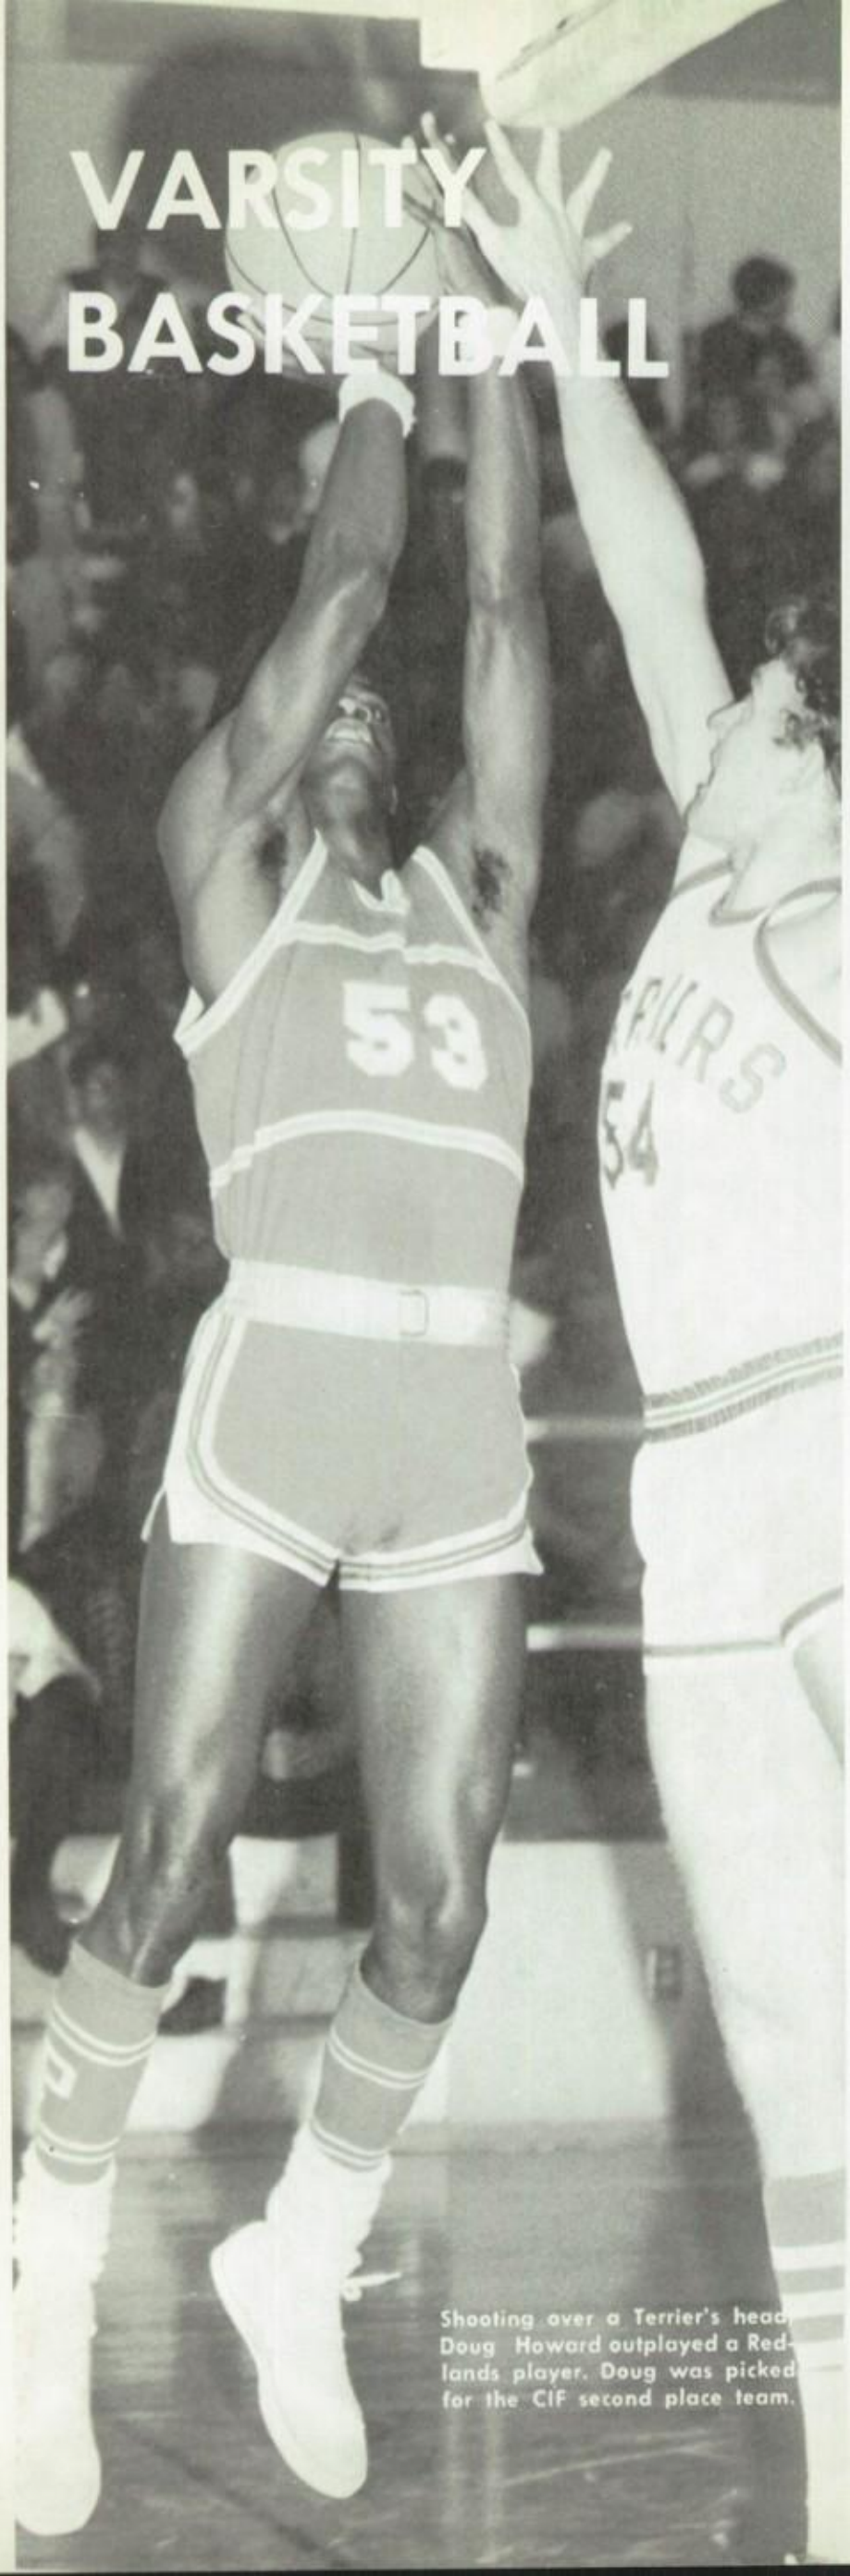
VARSITY BASKETBALL



Shooting over a Terrier's head, Doug Howard outplayed a Redlands player. Doug was picked for the CIF second place team.

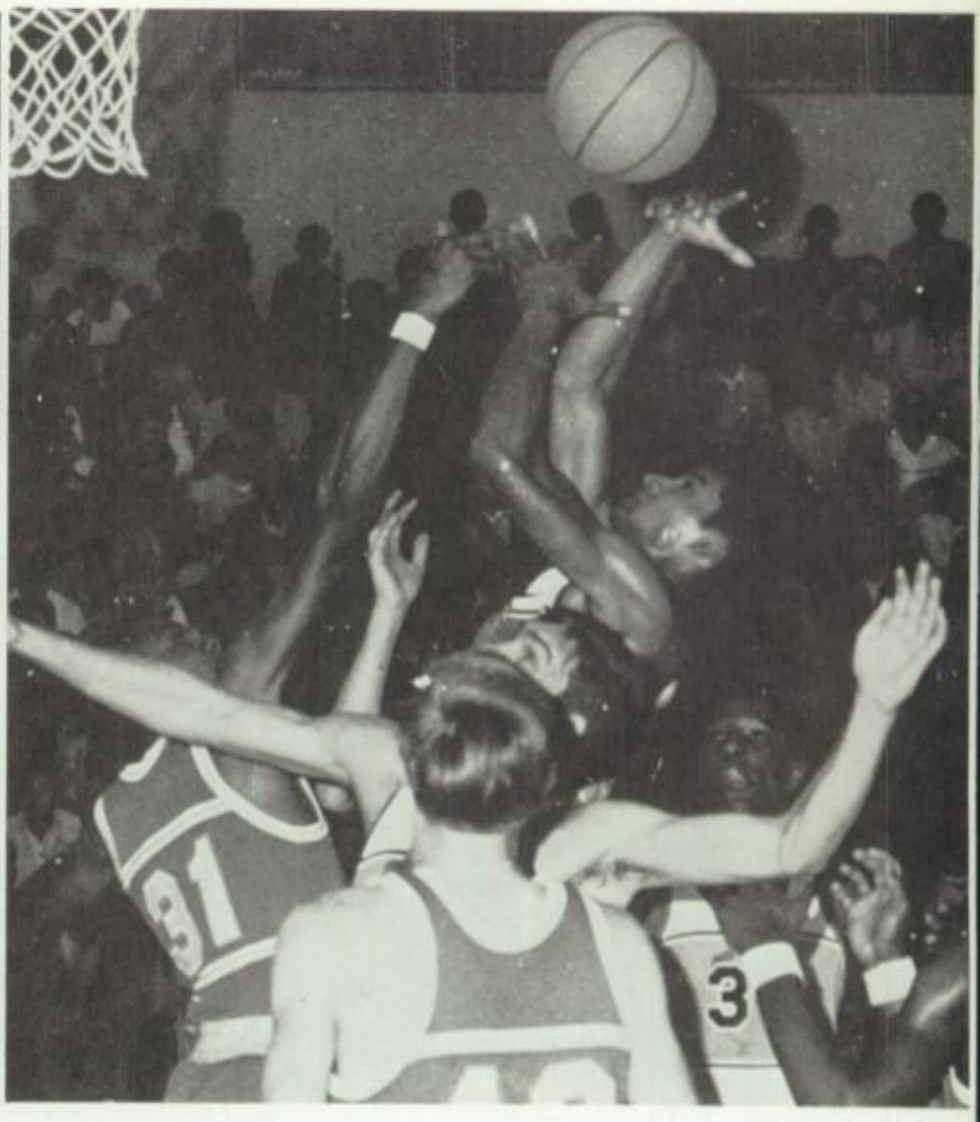
Awaiting the rebound, Tim Wiegart positioned himself to grab the ball from his Ramona opponent. We stayed first in the CBL standings.

Twice, Larry Jackson shot despite the outstretched arms of a Ram to gain the two points needed to lengthen the lead in the score between the two teams.

Doug Howard awaited the rebound amidst members of the San Gorgonio team. Doug broke the school record for the number of rebounds during one game.

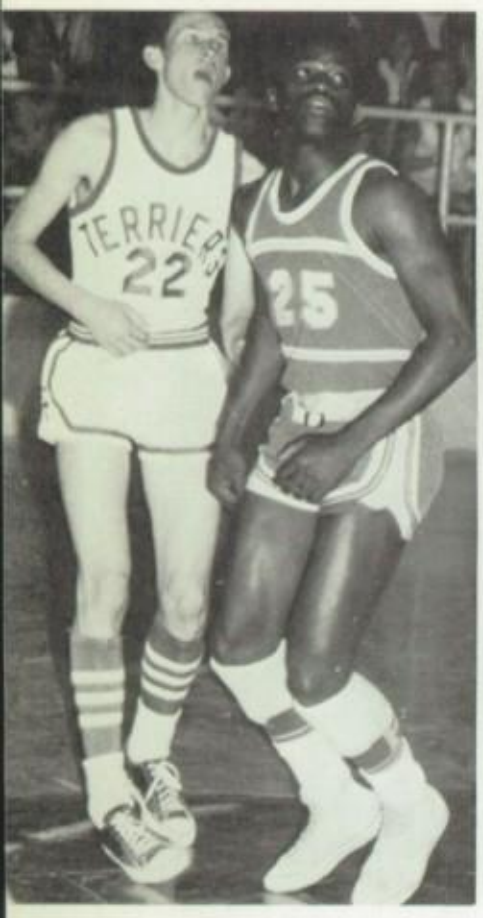


Calvin Hobbs and Doug Howard stretched for the rebound after a foul shot against Pacific. The Spartans gave us a hard time on the scoreboard.

Making another basket for two points, Scott Kay shot from beneath the basket amid a swarm of Berdoo players while Howard looked on.

Snatching the rebound from the awaiting hands of an opponent, Scott Kay brought the ball back to our basket to score two points for the Pirates.

Attempting to block a San Gorgonio Spartan from shooting, Calvin Hobbs blocked many such shots allowing us to gain possession of the ball. Calvin was one of the major point scorers. Pacific won the game in the last few minutes.



Larry Jackson watched as Larry Lockridge sunk the ball. Scott Kay sent two through to help defeat the Ramona Rams.

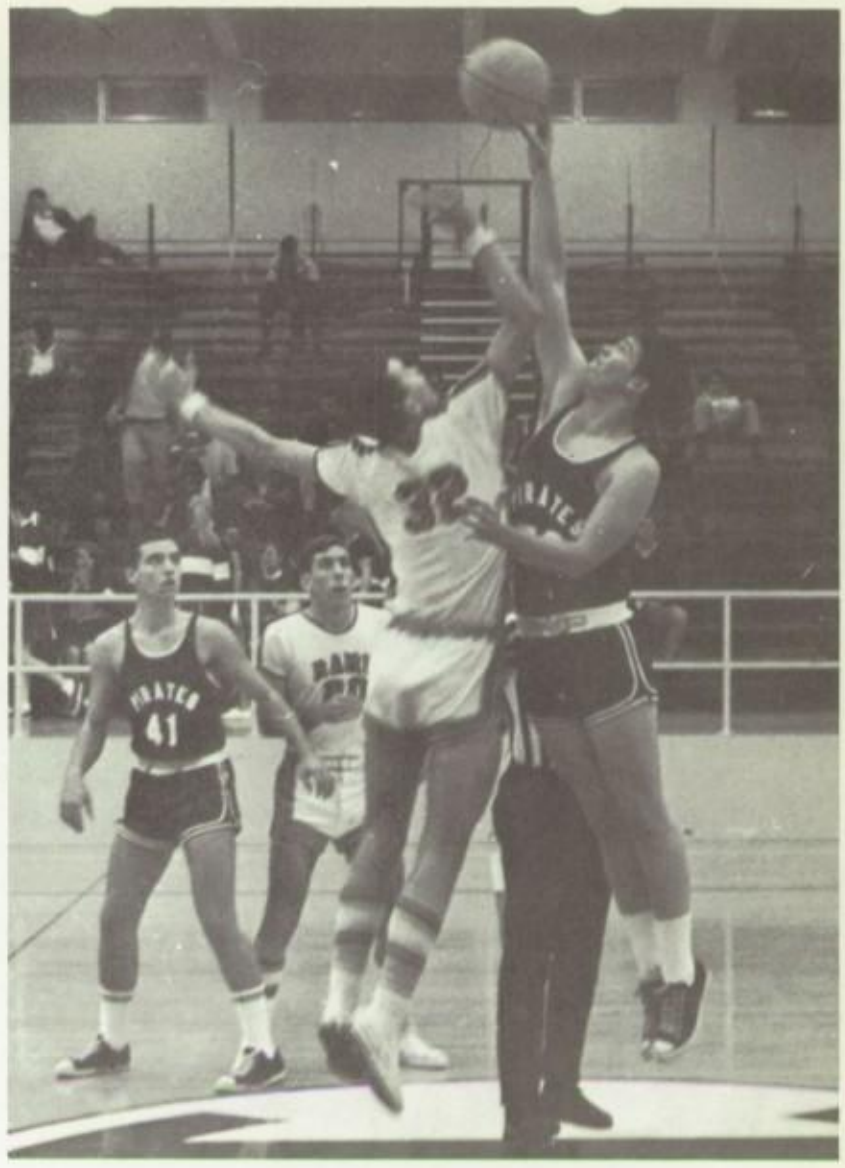
JV BASKETBALL

The JV Basketball team started its season off with Coach Chuck Pettersen as their new coach. He took the place of Famous McElwee who coached the team last year. The season's record was five wins and fourteen losses. The league record was five wins with five losses. Some of the outstanding players on the team were Phil Pope, Doug Smith, and Mark Armenta. Mark Armenta played many times with the Varsity team. Team and school spirit encouraged the team on to do their best throughout the season. Many members of the JV team will make up the bulk of the Varsity team next year. The sophomores learned the basics of the game and later on with practice perfected them.



Above: Leaping high into the air, Phil Pope showed the form necessary to gain possession of the basketball from his opponent.

BEE BASKETBALL

Practicing diligently throughout the season, the 1968-69 Bee Basketball team accomplished their goal of making the CBL finals. The team won twenty games and lost five. The league record was ten wins and four losses. Along with placing third in the CBL finals, the team also won the Lion's Club Tournament and the Aquinas Tournament. As coach, Arvil Hale led the team on through a victorious season. Some of the outstanding players on the team were Bob Becerra, Paul Schaffer, Mandy Moreno, Jim Holman, and Mark Paulis. The highest scorer on the team was Bob Becerra, who averaged about twenty points a game. These exceptional ball players were a benefit to our school.

Below: Jim Holman, of the Bee team, shot despite the efforts of a Redlands rival making two more valuable points for Pacific.

PACIFIC SWIMMING

Spending many hours before and after school, Coach Kocher and Coach Williams worked with their team on their strokes.

Skillfully displaying his talent for cherry bombing, Jeff Frank found time to relax during a period break of free time.

During this past year the members of the varsity, bee, and cee teams worked with the coaches for a very fine year. Coach Williams and Coach Kocher encouraged the three teams to achieve the fastest possible times. Dedicating many hours of practice before and after school helped the swimmers to perfect their strokes. For workout each person had to stay submerged for 50 yards without taking a breath. They also had to swim 3500-5000 yards each day.

Below: Practicing a starting dive a member of the Varsity swim team exerted himself to obtain the length needed to gain the speed over opponents.

Striving to excel in his racing division, Joe Walker attempted to pull ahead of his competitors in the Fontana-Pacific free style grouping meet.

Following through with a perfect stroke Meredith Sechrest applied some of his court strategy to win the game.

Backhanding the ball, Barry Crane showed expectant JV's the proper technique for returning the ball.

John Kohfeldt reviewed the basic strokes before entering the competition in the Eisenhower tournament played at Pacific.

Reaching for a high one, Tom Robertson tried to complete his serve to his waiting opponent.

Participating in both high jumping and the shotput, Roger Broadfoot spent many long hours running and weight lifting for competition.

Easily clearing the nine foot six inch mark, Randy Rodden displayed his skill as the best pole-vaulter Pacific had this year.

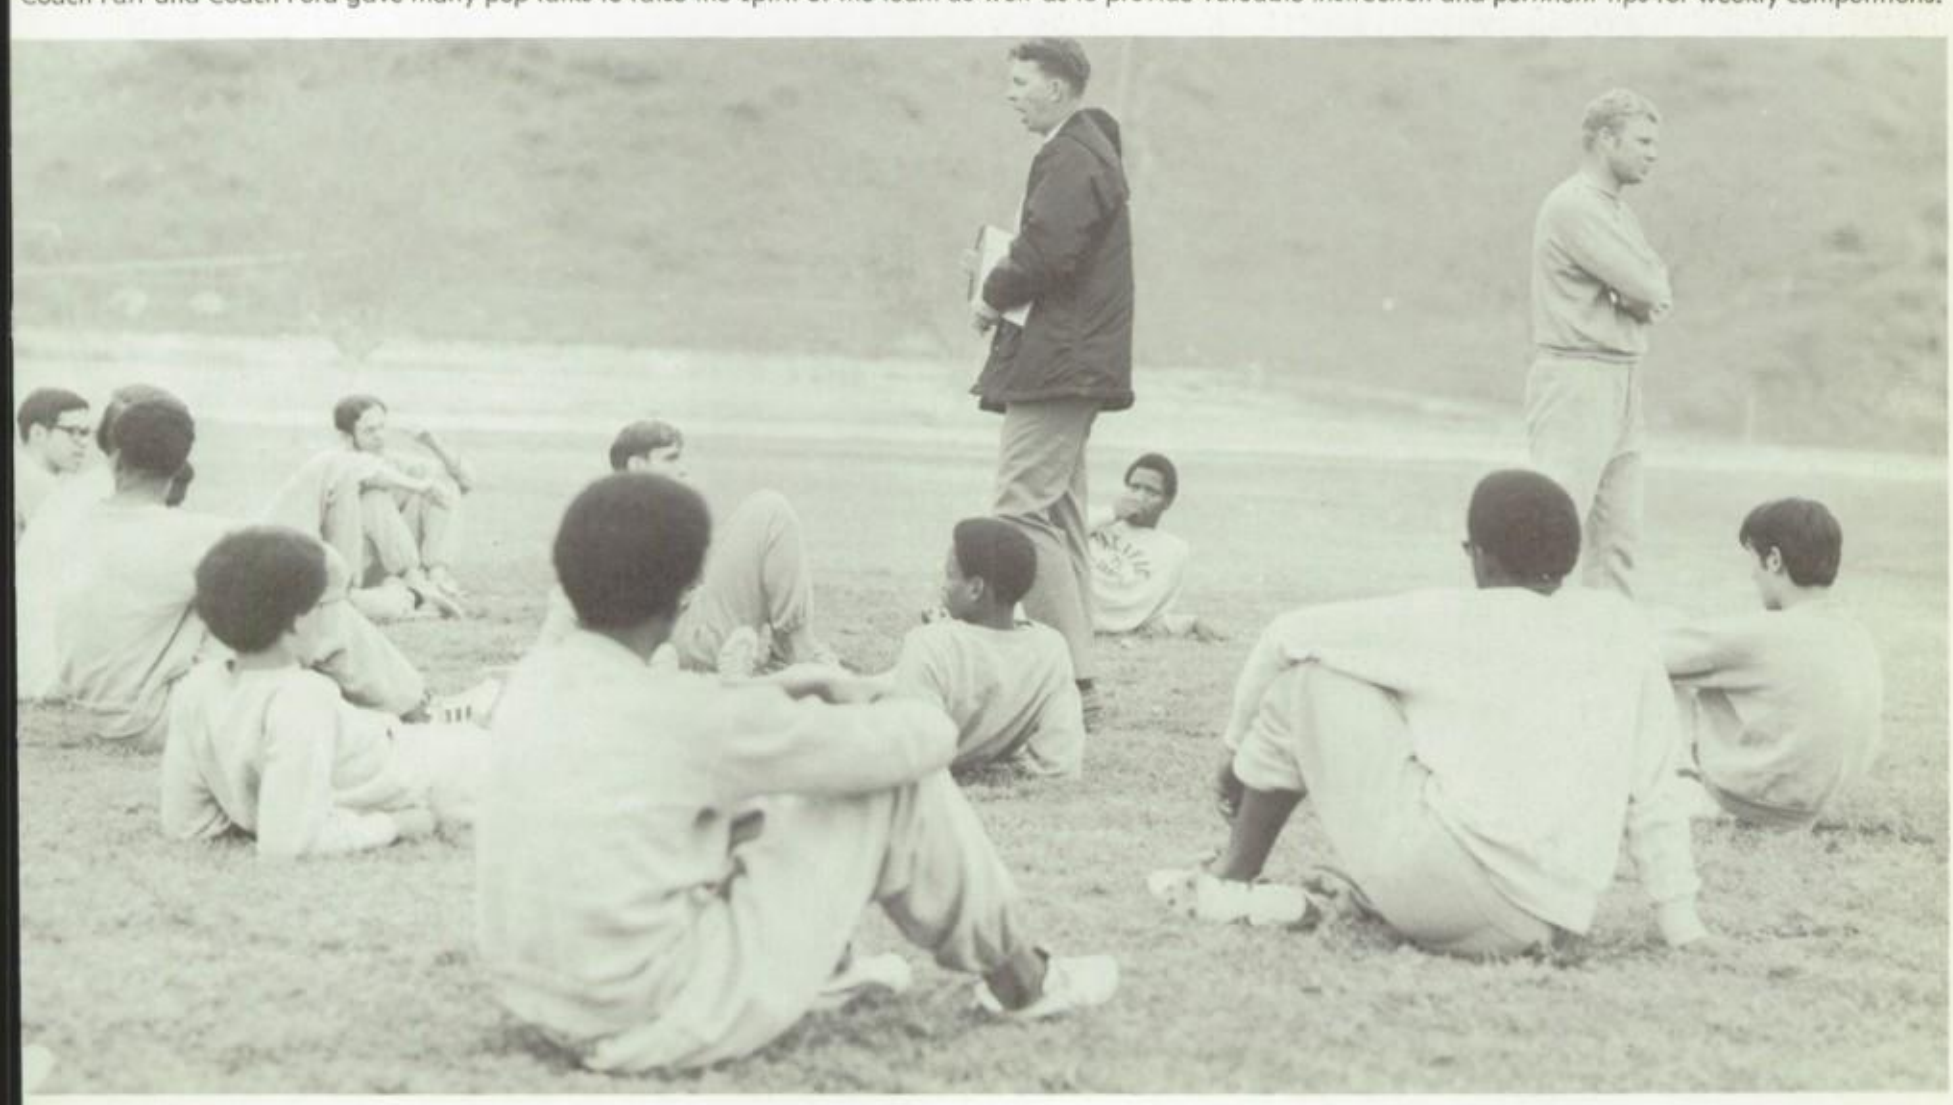
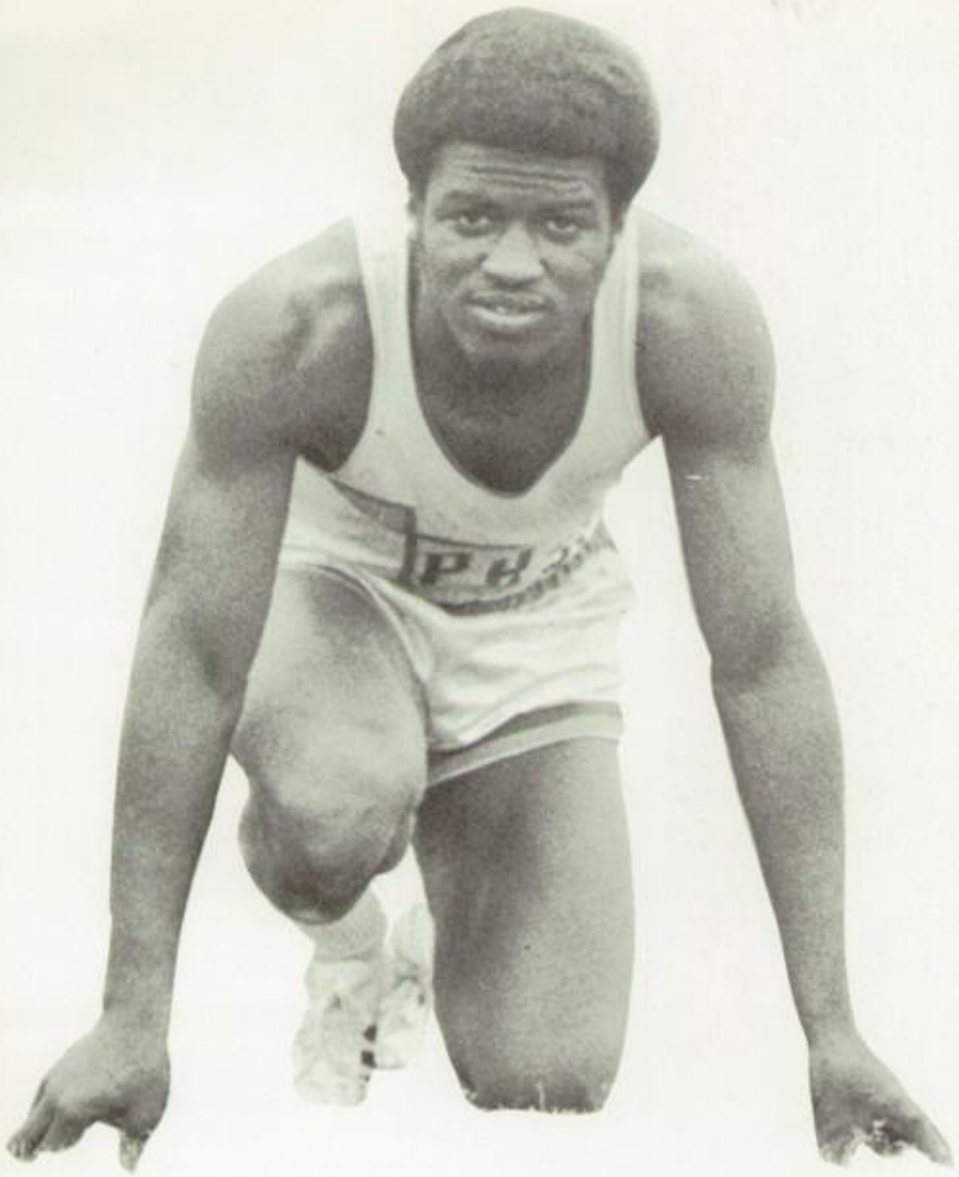
Coach Farr and Coach Ford gave many pep talks to raise the spirit of the team as well as to provide valuable instruction and pertinent tips for weekly competitions.



Impressingly leading the members of his team in the one-hundred yard dash was Gary Cushman, a senior. Gary and other members of the team worked long hours to achieve a great track season. Displaying form and skill in hurdling, Ron Spigner (in front) and two other members of the team easily executed the jumps under the leadership of Coach Tom Farr (standing in the background).



Leaving the starting block in a burst of energy, Kevin Graf strove to gain the speed he needed to finish the fifty yard dash with ease.

A Fast Break Out of The Block Provides A Better Chance To Win

The Pacific High track team, who lacked a variety of strong athletes, performed surprisingly well. Coach Farr worked diligently with the Varsity, Bee and Cee team members to improve the meet results as the season progressed. Roger Broadfoot and Gary Cushmen went on to Citrus Belt League and California Scholastic Federation competition respectively. Both the Bee and Cee teams strove for personal improvement. Some of the outstanding Bee team members included Miles Bogh, Arnold Blackburn, and Rodney Spigner. Cee members Arthur Ashe, Mike Blacklock, Haskel Herndon, Dennis Clarkson, and Jim Hernandez performed exceptionally well throughout the '69 season.

SOPHOMORES

First Year Excitement

Thrilling, unique, and captivating experiences were in store for incoming sophomores. After one wet week of swimming, they tackled touch football. Track and field included the standing and running broad jump, the high jump, the mile walk, running the hurdles, the fifty-yard dash, and working at the blocks. The sophomores then participated in beginning tennis. Second semester found the novices folk dancing in the gym. Tumbling, first aid, and body mechanics were also scheduled in the sophomores' inspiring and busy first year at PHS.

Taking position to center the ball were two sophomore teams. Touch football was a common sport in the sophomore gym classes.

GIRLS SPORTS

SENIORS

Ready, Aim, Fire!

Shooting a Bull's eye was the principal goal of senior girls during their nine-week session of archery. By shooting six consecutive arrows into the target, they earned their own crests. While archery concluded their first quarter, tennis and touch football were played during the second quarter. Body conditioning was the central interest at the dawn of the second semester. A course in badminton followed the body conditioning, while volleyball, which included two weeks of coed brought their senior year to a close. All in all, the year proved to be beneficial, rewarding, and fun, for Pacific senior girls.

Perfecting their skills was the prime purpose of Kris Anderson and Kathy Sanders as they aimed accurately to earn their crests.

Fitness through fun

The year of 1968-69 proved to be a very active one for the Pacific junior girls. The physical education classes started the year off by playing volleyball and then went into tennis. During the winter of the year the classes were involved in an exciting quarter of touch football and basketball. The beginning of second semester found the girls participating in soccer, and then later in field hockey. The end of the year brought the season of softball to an end, along with a swinging session of golf. The girls left Pacific High School looking forward to 1970.

Volleying the ball over the net was the main goal of many junior girls who were involved in playing the sport of volleyball.

Executing a perfect return in the sport of tennis was the goal of senior Roxanne Jones, as was the aim of all senior girls.

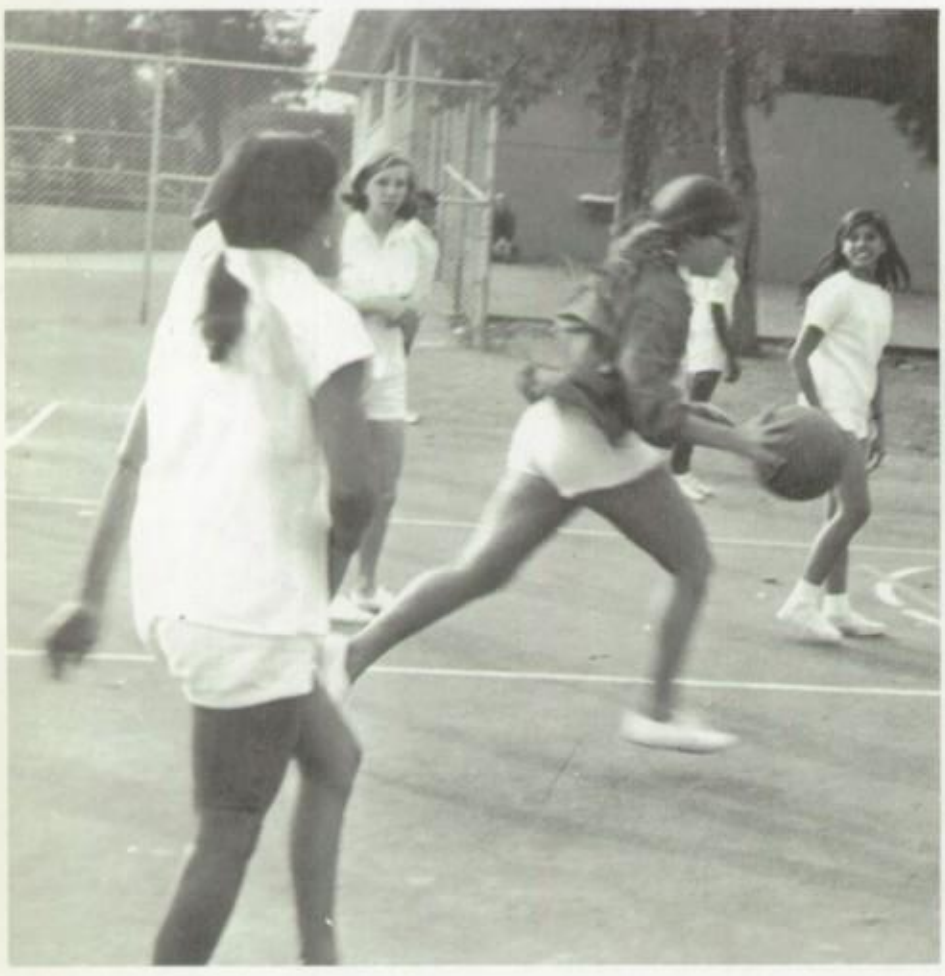
Participating in the game of badminton was only one activity on the busy schedule planned for senior girls' P.E. classes.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Providing an athletic outlook for girls was the intent of GAA. Sophomores, taught by Miss Zanders, and juniors and seniors, directed by Miss Dominguez, pursued physical perfection. The GAA members were intersted in sports more than most girls and thus played the activities wholeheartedly. This year, basketball, field hockey, tennis, and volleyball were performed. Softball, track and field, badminton, and golf were other recreations. GAA often traveled to other high schools for tournaments. It wasn't all work though, occasionally the girls went skating, horseback riding, and had parties.

Preparing a toss up for Nancy Creek and Liz Oppelt was Linda Stranton, who frequently acted as basketball referee for GAA.

Dribbling the ball helped members of GAA, such as Josie Gomez, Pat Leberknight, Kathy Bryant, and Jennie Arellano, perfect their skills.



Looking on as Hallie Hyer delivered a pounding serve to their opponents was teammate Josie Gomez. The tennis match was typical of GAA.

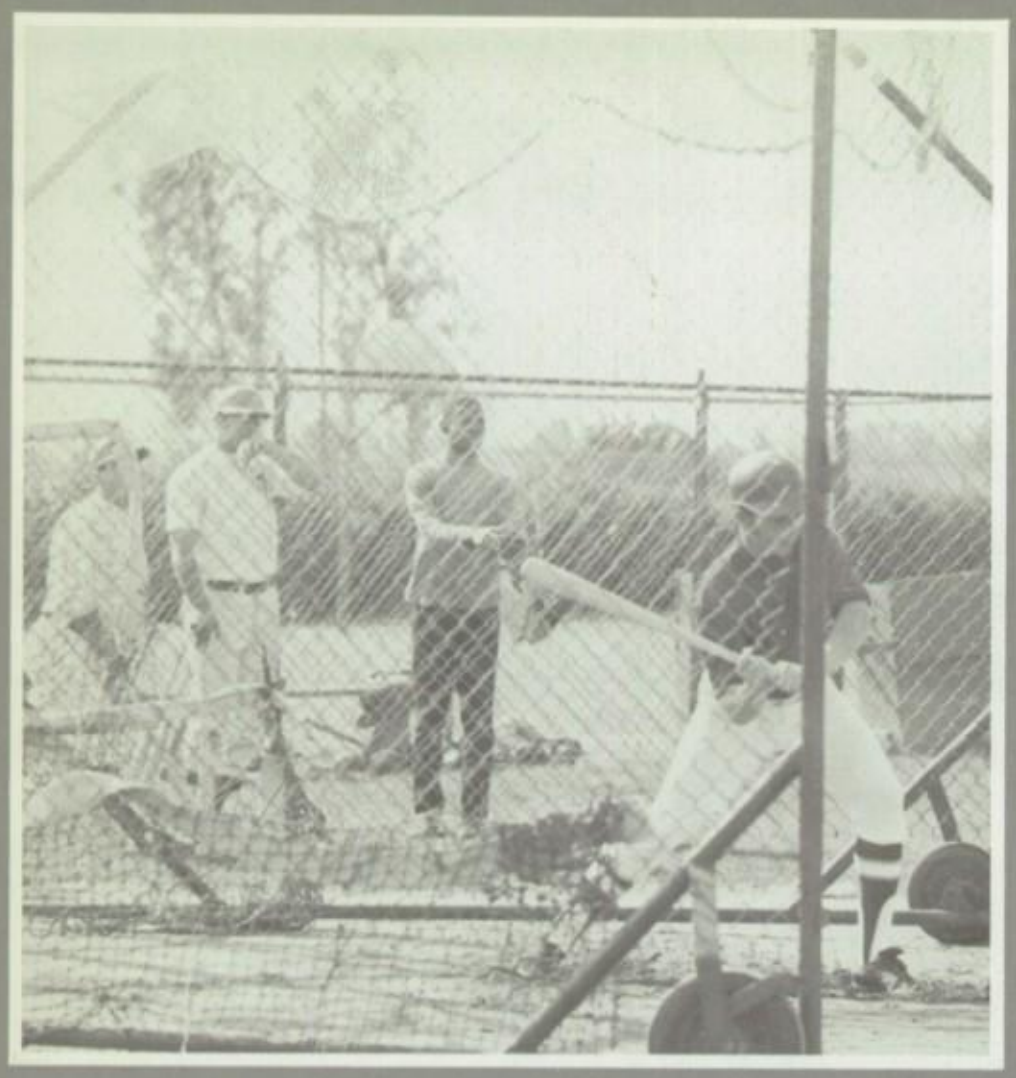
Below: Coach Hale set the spikes to anchor the automatic pitcher used for practicing batting. Many such devices were used to get the boys to the peak of perfection. Below left: Coach Elton watched critically as members of the Varsity team strived to get in shape for the opening game of this year's baseball season.



After School Practice

After school baseball practice played an extremely important part in winning games for the Varsity team. In the picture above, an outstanding member of the team, Jack Butler, practiced his batting. Below, Coach Arvil Hale loaded the pitching machine which was an aid quite valuable in practicing batting. Many hard-working and exhausting hours were spent by the team in training for Pirate victories.

JV BASEBALL

They Improved Skills And Gained Experience For Varsity Contests

Opening the 1969 baseball season with a 12-3 win over Kennedy High, the Junior Varsity team leaped into the beginning of a hopeful year. Coach Bob Meade and Coach Dan King spent many hours training and working out the team. Batting, pitching, throwing, and catching skills were emphasized quite diligently in the practices. Dennis Anderson, pitcher and first-baseman; Leroy Britton, catcher and outfielder; and Larry Egan, outfielder, were three of the best players on the team. Despite their seasons record, good sportsmanship was prevalent.

Holding regular meetings helped the Sophomore Social Council plan their many money making projects. These projects, presided ever by President Jim Fox, were open to all sophomores interested in participating in the activities of their class.

Raising money was an important project of all three classes and clubs at Pacific, and washing cars was a common way of earning money for the sophomore treasury. Bake sales, donut sales, and candy cane sales were other means used to raise funds for the prom next year.

Sophomores excelled in school spirit, music,

Gregarious sophomores met in the quad to enjoy their lunch, talk with their friends, and do their last-minute homework.

SOPH OFFICERS

Ambitiously leading the Class of '71, President James Fox started the sophomores on their way through Pacific. Fund Raising projects, assemblies, and football games became a part of sophomore life. Shortly after arriving, this class displayed their school spirit, proving that the sophomore class of 1971 can rule.

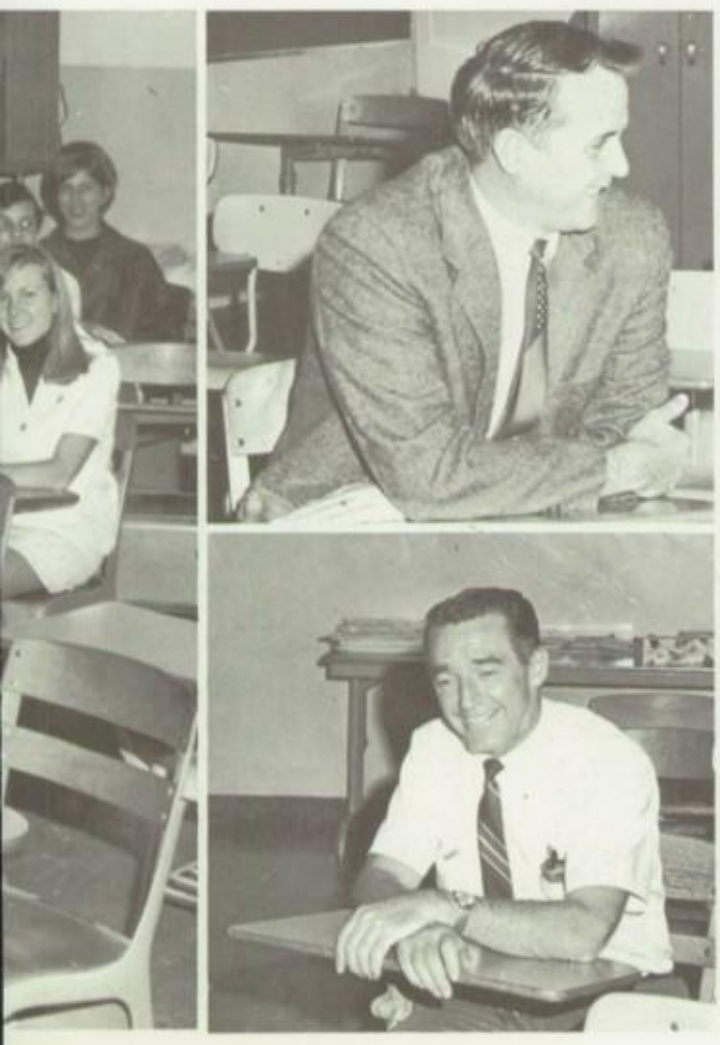
Dedicated sophomores interested in planning the activities of their class were a part of the Social Council. Bake sales and car washes were just a few activities held to raise money for this year's prom.

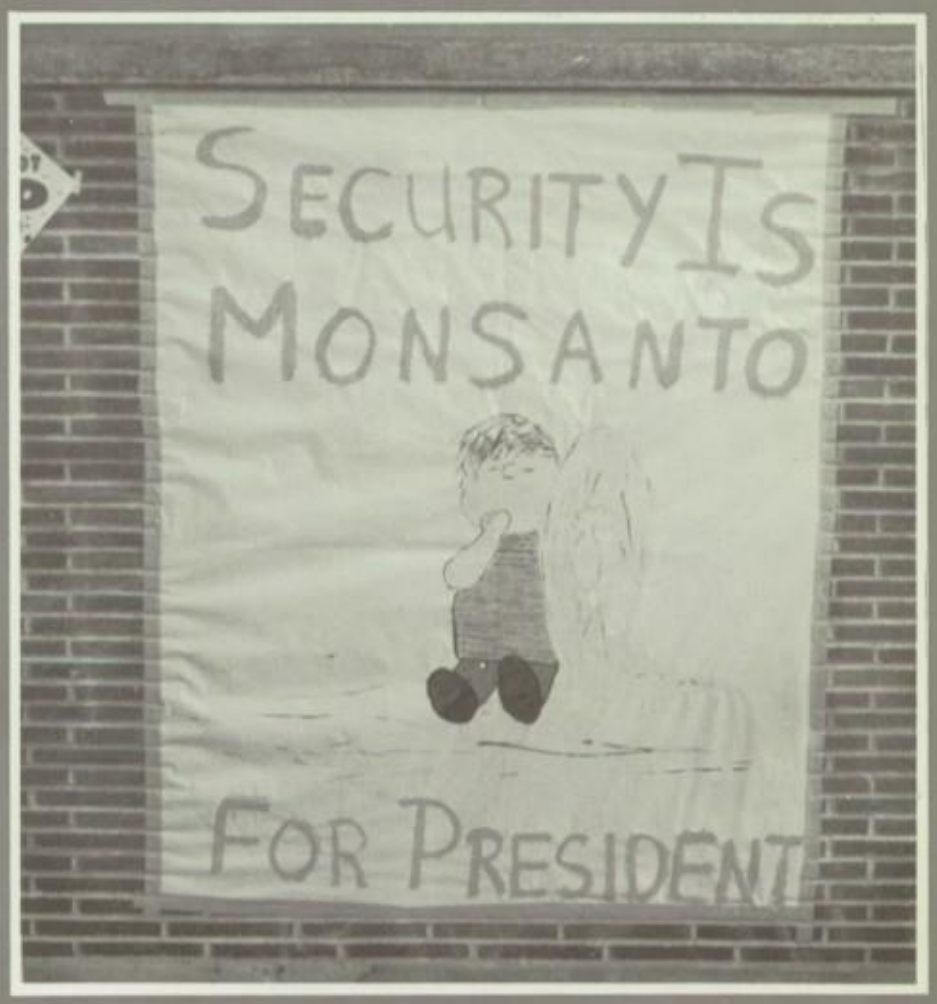
Assisting class officers was the main duty of Mr. Havemann, top, Mr. Painter, bottom, Miss Glenn, and Mr. Fotia as sponsors of the class of 1971.



Participating in the selection of their officers, sophomores went to the polls and cast their votes for the candidate of their choice.

Sophomore Election

Persuading voters to mark their ballots in the appropriate box, campaigners posted signs of all sizes throughout the campus and quad.



Vigorously washing, scrubbing, drying, horseplaying, and vacuuming at their first fund raising project of the year were these faithful sophomores.

Soph. Car Wash

Cleaning the notorious Yulmobile was the biggest undertaking of the day for these poor sophomores. Scraping dirt and crud from the exterior and vacuuming trash from the interior was only part of the job. Cleaning the Yulmobile, however was not quite as bad as washing a horse, but when you need money you have to make some sacrifices.

Congregating in the quad area before school provided sophomores with an opportunity to study and socialize. The quad was also very popular during lunch time and after school.

Participation was shown by sophomores during the football and basketball season. An exuberance of school spirit and enthusiasm was displayed throughout all of the seasons.

"Love is Blue" was the theme for the 1969 basketball homecoming ceremonies. Vying for the title of sophomore darling were Margo Davis, Carla McGinnis, Jeanne Smith, and Darlene Villa. Each of the four candidates were nominated by the varsity basketball squad on a personality and appearance basis. On the night of February 14, during half-time activities of the Eisenhower game, Jeanne Smith was crowned Sophomore Darling for the '69 year.

I. C. C. IN ACTION

I.C.C. was led this year by Lee Kersten, their capable and active president. Through Lee's guidance, I.C.C. was able to accomplish many projects which were beneficial to the student body. Organization was the main duty of the Inter-Club Council. They regulated club activities and contributed to the success of many money-raising functions. The officers worked with Lee to try to solve the problems such as the clean campus campaign. This was accomplished by assigning a specific area of Pacific's campus to each club to clean. I.C.C. also gave an award to the club which gained the most hours in the service hours competition.

I.C.C. members were given a chance to voice the opinions of the clubs which they represented at the regular morning meetings.

The Scholastic Bowl, led by president Brian Pierce, participated each week in tournaments with other schools in the San Bernardino area.

Linda Snyder, president of Scribes, supervises fellow members of the club as they work busily to turn out another edition of High Tide.

Andy Ward, president, works with other Print Shop club members to publish the advertisements and notices needed for school projects.

NEW CLUBS

Several new clubs made their start at Pacific High in '68-'69. Many students found that when they worked with people who shared their own interests, they enjoyed the projects and activities more. Some of the new special interest clubs were the ones pictured here. Cavaliers and Patriots were two new social service clubs for Pacific High in 1968-69.

The members of the Future Secretaries of America club gained experience in types of secretarial work necessary in careers they planned.

Members of Tele-Communications, a club for amateur photographers, took pictures in their spare time. Ken Shimizu was club president.

Admiring their float, Lehis members and alumnae gathered around to share the glory of winning the sweepstakes award. Even though Lehis only placed as first runner-up last year, their careful planning and industrious work yielded results by turning out for them the winning float.

The 1968 Homecoming float procession was based on the theme of Storybook Land. In the stands, the audience was entranced by the many floats which were based on a variety of childhood memories. The floats were judged at 3 p.m. that afternoon and the prizewinners were announced during the halftime ceremonies. The Sweepstakes float, constructed by Lehis, consisted of a dragon on the drawbridge of a castle and included various moving parts. Pagettes provided stiff competition with their first-place float depicting Treasure Island. Dantes' float placed second with the theme of "Peter Pan" during Homecoming 1968.

Above: Lehis combined work with fun at their napkin-twisting parties: not only were the napkins twisted but entertainment and refreshments were provided as well. Right: Two members of Zontas, Linda Betts and Lisa Stanton, hurriedly stuffed napkins into the chicken wire on their float. Below: Several Lehis members, with the assistance of friends, also stuffed their float.

HONOR CLUBS

Students maintaining high grade point averages had an opportunity to join various honor clubs at Pacific High School. Outstanding abilities and superior scholastic aptitudes were qualifications for membership. Those who were fortunate enough to be accepted into one of these clubs, received momentous experiences with other students of the same caliber and of equal merit. As a result of membership, they gained valuable recognition which would aid them in several ways at college and in the future.

Bev Jerman won the second place prize in the Veterans of Foreign War essay contest. The title of her selection was "Freedom's Challenge."

The topic of the evening at this Soboban board meeting was the Christmas party for the orphans at Juvenile Hall. However, the board members found it far more interesting to discuss all of the latest gossip around school. But even so, many things were accomplished at the regular board meetings which were held in the homes of the members every month.

SPECIAL INTEREST CLUBS

Students who wanted to increase their enjoyment and knowledge of their favorite subjects could participate in special interest clubs. Many of these clubs were involved in numerous outside activities such as trips, parties, and banquets. Most students could find at least one club that suited their interests because of the large selection. This selection encompassed areas such as sports, languages, home economics, art, and other subjects. The membership showed Pacific's first class spirit in special interest clubs.

Competitive Athletics For Girls In G. A. A.

The Girl's Athletic Association was just one of the many Special Interest clubs on campus. As members of G.A.A., the girls were able to participate in many sports and develop their physical abilities to the level of perfection. This theory of consummate skill was the basic idea behind the majority of Special Interest clubs at Pacific.

GAA members participated in many enthusiastic sports throughout the year. Volleyball, a very active game, tested the girls' teamwork and their sportsmanship.

SOCIAL SERVICE CLUBS

Dante members, Diane Kamansky, Susie Trask, Lynn Pagel, and Patti Stewart tried their luck at selling bubble gum, one of their many projects designed to raise money for the treasury of their club.

One of the three main types of clubs on campus was the Social Service club. The main purpose of this kind of club was to initiate service throughout the school and community, while promoting social activities within the club. To meet the requirements of membership in Social Service Clubs, students needed to have acceptable grades and good moral standing. Members were able to find security and friendship as well as fulfillment of their desire to serve the community.

Hanging posters and beating trash cans were two of the ways in which Galahad members were able to contribute to the school spirit at Pacific this year. Social Service clubs were active in participating in school functions such as the rallies before the football and basketball games.

ADVERTISING AND INDEX

THESE MERCHANTS SUPPORT PACIFIC HIGH SCHOOL . . . THEY DESERVE YOUR PATRONAGE!

There is an Honor in Business that is the fine gold of it; that reckons with every man justly; that loves light; that regards kindness and fairness more highly than goods or prices or profit. It becomes a man more than his furnishings or his house. It speaks for him in the heart of everyone. His friendships are serene and secure. His strength is like a young tree by the river.

CONGRATULATIONS!

CLASS OF '69

from the

FACULTY CLUB

Upon completion of the 1969 Pacificana, the dedicated annual staff prepared for the oncoming year and felt relieved having met their last deadline.

To a real bright girl, hope you have a lot of fun next year. Kay Martin

Jena, I really enjoyed this school year with you. Good luck this summer and have lots of fun. Love, Tonya

Jena, I really enjoy being your friend it's really been a cool this year. I'm kinda sad to leave. Bye Steve Sharpe

Jena, Glad I'm in your class this year. Have a great summer. Don't do anything I wouldn't do. Dale

Jena, Have a great summer. Don't do anything I wouldn't do. Love ya Janet Kenny Hello Jena— Again we didn't have much contact this year. I wish we could've been friends. I hope to see ya next year. Hello

Jena, Nice talking to you this year. Have a great summer. Love ya Ruth Jena, To a real cute little girl. It's been fun having you in my English class. See ya next year and good luck as a big, bad junior. John Roth

Lena,
It was another great year. I hope next year is the same. Best of luck - Marian

Dear Lena,
Sorry I haven't written sooner but I was busy
(Don't do anything
I would do)
Have a
Merry Summer
Be Safe
Love,
Elliott Thomson

Lena,
Sorry I haven't seen you much this year,
hope all is well
& things go alright for you. Go Indy!
Blake Robinson

Lena, so glad that you got to venture all the gym. We'll always remember our crazy baseball team!
didn't do too well, but the least we tried. I'm sure at least we were cute that we're not
Love,
Bailey Gilmore

Dear Lena,
I had a great time
this summer with you and hope to see you again very soon.
Good luck always,
Love,
Kristin Kelly

Dear Lena,
Have a great summer and good luck
next year.
Love,
Jessica Santana

Dear Lena,
Thanks for a great year
and summer.
Good luck
next year.
Love,
Kristin Kelly

Dear Lena,
Thanks for a great year
and summer.
Good luck
next year.
Love,

Jena,
It's been a lot of fun this year in Geometry. Have a lot of fun this summer and maybe I'll see you next year.

Love,
Steve

Jena,

It's been really fun having you in gym & just knowing you this year. I hope we can be better friends next year & have more classes together.

Good luck!

Lee Ann

Jena,
Have fun this summer. Hope to see you next year as a junior.
Luck always
Pat McCumber

Jena,

I'm glad I got to know you this year. I hope we'll be on the same team next year. See you this summer.
Good luck.
Love
Gayle

Jena,
It has been a wonderful year. It seems to me to have gone by so quickly! I wish future luck and happiness.
Jack Clapper

Jena,
You're a real sweet girl. I hope I see you next year.
